

Make your own decisions. DNA proved no two humans are alike. Once a person realizes their unique natural ability their subconscious mind/infinite intelligence connection supplies correct solutions to all situations.

This is GOD Speaking - I'm Annoyed

Buy The Complete Version of This Book at Booklocker.com:

<http://www.booklocker.com/p/books/2139.html?s=pdf>

to let him enter university because he failed to acquire the total credits in French. Being the thinking man he is, he simply took one summer course in German and received the required credits. Had he left it up to the academic hierarchy the world would be short one metallurgical engineer and educator.

I am using this example to direct your mind to think of the correctness of making your own decisions. Infinite intelligence feeds us all the knowledge from all times as we become capable of accepting and understanding same. Unfortunately we have been brainwashed to believe this is not true and must put ourselves in debt buying education to “run with the lions.” If you require all those diplomas for wall hangings in the office or to add to your resume, fly at it; play their game. Just remember where the real learning is to be found.

When it feels mentally good you are right. If you are uncomfortable with a point in your teachings, search for results in your own way. Let others do as they must. You and a choice few know better. Your final exam results will be far above average.

Resist confrontation. Keep our secret until you can present results. Remember that at this point in time less than two percent achieve success. Why is this so? It is because we have been incorrectly taught to conform. Why? To keep the unwashed, swarthy masses under control of the top two percent. The greedy “old boy” networks manipulate and dominate the masses to maintain control. This is one of the main reasons you are held back from greatness

We are all educated to slavery. Who was it that said “I can’t take it anymore”. Let your mind run free. The universe is an overly abundant place. Look around you and see that nature replenishes all. Nature will not allow vacuums. Take what you need.

Chapter 2: Try a New Train of Thought

Who educated you to not follow hunches or better still, intuition? When you are ready, infinite intelligence supplies you the required knowledge or puts you in contact. We simply have not been educated in the area of intuition. Most simply cannot comprehend the idea that the future already exists. Time is the fallacy.

When one becomes intelligent enough to comprehend, intuition is an instantaneous, overwhelming understanding supplied by infinite intelligence. When we ignore well-intentioned advice from others that are on a totally different path, miraculous events begin to come to pass.

First you will develop your ability to receive information without using the five senses. Do not get “hung up” on attempting to establish how clairvoyance and precognition operate. They simply do. Just allow them to assist in your achievements.

You do not have to be anything near an expert in internal combustion operation to run an automobile. Although some gain these abilities through traumatic events and others, like Edgar Cayce and Sylvia Browne seem to be born with higher than average ability, we all have this ability. It is like swimming or riding a bike. With determination, practice and a lack of procrastination your ability will progress to the point with which you are comfortable.

Then you must learn to apply action to these intuitive creations. Applying the infinite intelligence connection (Yin) to the subconscious (Yang) for implementation separates the men from the boys. At the outset, to apply action single-handed takes bravery. With a few successes behind you the daring is replaced with confidence and assuredness. The Sylvia Brownes that place themselves in the center of media criticism for the overall good of society are to be commended. She and others have what is lacking in the sheep of today's society; strength of conviction and their finely tuned intuition especially detects human frailty.

Misfits to them are often as perceptible as black clouds on a sunny day. Through the elimination of time, which is simply a theory, intuition perceives the vibrations of those in a panic, hunting state far beyond normal vibrations so the intuitive receive their reactions regardless of time /space. Most modern day mystics simply create and enjoy all for their immediate associates and themselves.

The pineal gland system is the mind/body/spirit connection and also the imaginative, intuitive motivator. It directs intuition which may become a two edged sword to many not aware of the fabulous implications. When one does not hold intuition or telepathy in check when they zero-in on others generated moods being wholesome, cheerful or verging on nervous breakdown one must become conditioned to react instantly. Intuition generated to you by infinite intelligence is never wrong. There is no need for analyzing that which is delivered to you from God.

How can an informed one procrastinate? Infinite intelligence, through intuition and hunches directs you to the accomplishment of perfection. As we shape evolution from this point on, infinite intelligence is guiding the informed to a nirvana where large communities, through intuitive connection, gather and apply perfection to our future through the power of thought.

It is all so simple to understand (as brilliant people pointed out) but most, even our great scholars, seem to miss the point. No one can conceive infinite. There are no boundaries to anything; infinite means just that. There was no beginning, there will be no end. We outside of our little galaxy are not revolving around anything, just infinity in every direction. It is much more than three dimensional.

Time is also an erroneous idea created by modern day man.

Descartes said; "I think therefore I am."

Thought is energy as energy is thought. Energy may be impressive when watching the surf. Energy may also run hydro electric generators etc. etc. but thought alone runs you. Thought, the highest form of energy has infinite levels and we, on this plane are in the mid-range. As your thinking illuminates the subconscious mind/ infinite intelligence advances the vibrations and therefore your ability to create successfully. As thought elevates you will reach a point, as Ghandi, the Dalai Lama and other great leaders have and spiritually elevate above this mundane existence as you did to reach this plane. Remember, As you think you are. As Jesus thought, and still does, he is. Infinite applies to thought too. To think you think is unfortunately ego based. You no more control thought than your computer does. Infinite intelligence, energy and thought created you and all around you. You are a temporary vessel which you touch and feel. The vessel to create, which is the now you, is one of the few temporary areas of existence. Once you have accomplished that which was pre-determined by your previous thoughts you will elevate to greater accomplishments. As your thinking progresses from the limitations you are presently capable of it is an enlightening sign you have mastered the ability to overcome previously taught limitation. With no doubts or procrastination in this area your abilities reach infinite proportions. The Formula One athlete maintaining twohundred mph in heavy traffic does not procrastinate. No end of practice in those high tech. machines will bring the average person to that required level. That is why there are so few high achievers in F1 racing, tennis or golf. When a person passes on to a higher plane their present life flashes before their eyes. This action is simply the infinite intelligence/ thought process temporarily shutting down. So further revision to Descartes is " If I cease to think therefore I aren't."

Energy is at all places at all times. We are just energy, in a temporary vehicle; therefore we are connected to all places and all times. The past, the present and the future are all but one.

When one can fathom "there was no beginning" infinite begins to take shape in ones mind. For example, a brilliant person, Owen Waters created www.InfiniteBeing.com.

Integrity, according to the dictionary, can mean wholeness, but it can also be interpreted in a way that carries a lot of baggage. This add-on baggage includes self-defeating concepts like "should", "try to", and "high moral standards". All of these concepts are facets of old reality consciousness.

The frequency of consciousness in the new reality is heart-centered. Unconditional love comes naturally; you need only let it flow through your heart and allow that energy to be who you are.

When you shift to the higher consciousness of the New Reality, the universe reorganizes itself around you to reflect that higher reality. Externally-imposed rules are replaced by internal, love-based choices.

To become whole is to become harmoniously fully-functional. In such a reality, you treat yourself and others with unconditional love and care. To care less than that for yourself, or less than that for others, would mean being less than whole.

The keyword of the old reality was separation. The keyword for the New Reality is integrity, as in a sense of wholeness. An integrated self does not have opposing parts which foster a loss of self-love and self-acceptance.

The old reality's view of integrity was defined by people who don't want to be whole, and don't want you to be whole. By separating people's beliefs into opposing, self-defeating parts, there was always room for someone "superior" to be in charge and therefore maintain the social order of that time.

In the new reality, however, the frequency of consciousness is different. When you allow yourself to be in tune with the new reality, you no longer strive to be separate from others, nor strive to maintain opposing, separate points of view within yourself.

The new reality is heart-based. When you see fear for the hollow illusion that it is, and allow your heart chakra to open to everyone in your life, then your actions are determined by your unconditional love for others around you and, equally, for yourself. When your heart opens up to loving yourself as much as anyone else, then you will want the best for yourself, just as much as any parent wants the best for their child.

The old reality sees love of self as an egocentric problem. The new reality recognizes that if infinite being is infinite love, then perhaps it's time to get in tune with the greater reality and wholly respect yourself. Besides, a heart-based reality is not an egocentric level of consciousness. It exists at a different frequency; to be specific, at fourth-density rather than at the old third-density.

Wholeness comes with a chakra shift, a shift of focus from the third to the fourth chakra. The fourth chakra channels heart-based, unconditional love. With the shift to love energy comes wholeness of mind, body and spirit. The shift to love is one big step in the direction of who you are, and who we all are. Remember, deep down inside we are all infinite beings.

We are all connected to infinite intelligence, mind power, intuition and subconscious mind, therefore you must train yourself that all you need to do is ask, believe and do not question that this all knowing power has all the answers along with how to accomplish everything; all will then come to you in an obvious manner.

Do not question whether it works or not; as you question, the wheels of failure go into action. The subconscious mind cannot rationalize. If you have fed it any negativity you have a few seconds before it sinks in. Repeat "cancel, cancel, cancel", then use stronger positive suggestions to replace the negativity.

Where you are in life now is a direct result of past thinking. What the mind conceives and believes it must achieve, be it positive or negative.

At this point I would like to thank John Robson (www.totransformyou.com) for this extremely informative and agreeable article.

Our subconscious mind exerts a powerful influence over our lives. It preserves and runs the body. It stores and organizes memories, emotions and energy. It controls and maintains all of our perceptions. Over 95% of what we do, think and say comes from old programming in our subconscious mind. Unless you make a conscious effort to direct the immense power of your subconscious, its robotic and limited programs will run your life. It will sabotage your best intentions. And yet, it's not difficult to work with the subconscious.

You just have to know what you're doing. Here are a few things you should know about the subconscious:

1. Despite its power, the subconscious is a servant of the conscious mind. It follows orders by acting on whatever is fed to it. It cannot distinguish between what is real and what is imagined. It has no sense of humor and takes everything very literally. Your conscious mind is the gate-keeper. For personal power, you must be aware of what you are allowing into the subconscious. And you can intentionally program it to manifest what you want in life.
2. The subconscious mind responds with instinct and habit. As thinking and behavioral patterns deepen, they become habits that become harder and harder to change.
3. Use repetition, authority and emotion to program the subconscious. Affirm and visualize often what you desire. Be strong, willful and in command. Draw on your passion and emotional power to affirm what you want, as emotions have a very strong impact on the subconscious mind.
4. The subconscious mind does not process negatives. For this reason, all affirmations and statements must be positive. Do not say, "I will not gain weight." The "not" is not recorded; the subconscious mind only hears "I will gain weight."
5. The subconscious represses memories with unresolved negative emotions. The memories will get buried, yet the beliefs and feelings associated with them will still control your reactions. This is why it is important to become aware of and resolve strong guilt, resentment, fears, anger and depression.
6. The subconscious mind works with symbols and metaphors. Watch your dreams closely for symbols that will offer clues to underlying issues that need to be resolved.
7. It takes everything personally. It keeps a photocopy of everything. Whenever you criticize, resent, judge and project negative thoughts and feelings onto others, you experience the negativity as your own.
8. The subconscious works on the principle of least effort. It follows the path of least resistance. Without purposeful direction from our conscious mind, it follows the easiest, usually more negative path of our engrained habits.

9. It has a need to be moral. The subconscious mind is also the source of a higher aspect of yourself. This God force, soul energy or whatever you want to call it supports your evolution towards love, unity, beauty and truth. Consciously working with the subconscious opens us to higher levels of wisdom and love.
10. It knows only the present time. There is no future or past in the subconscious mind. All stored experiences are processed as “now”. Know that the past affects you now, as the subconscious replays past programming in the present. So affirm in the now, not in the future. And understand that you have the power right now to re-write sabotaging programs from the past so you can claim a better future.

Intuition teaches us how to direct the immense power of the subconscious mind. We learn to revamp old, limited programs so they realign with the higher powers available to us. When you choose to understand the workings of your own mind and choose to exercise control over the functions and attributes of your own mind, you will be empowered to create your own reality, to be completely self-reliant and totally prosperous.

We bought a Jeep YJ for my wife’s plaything at our Baja Mexico winter home. She suddenly noticed every one of that same make and model. They had been there all along but she had never noticed them before.

Now, from another brilliant, head-on-right person, Kate Kriynovich at www.lifetreckcoaching.com:

“If I told you to look around your room and find five blue objects, it is likely that you could do it easily and, my guess is that you would notice the blue in objects that you had not seen until now. The fact that our attention is selective and that we are uniquely tuned to find whatever it is that we are looking for can be both a blessing and a curse. Staying on one “channel” enables a laser focus. We “tune” our minds to receiving certain information, it seems to begin coming at us from everywhere. But staying on one “channel” can also limit our ability to stretch the mind and embrace the gift of seeing a different perspective. For example, when I am focused on negativity, anger, disappointment, worry, I continue to tune into more instances of anger, disappointment and worry. When we choose only to gather information with our senses (rather than exploring our hunches) or only to make decisions based on logic (rather than weighing our emotions), we eliminate the possibility for the best conclusions. If we only seek the “right” answer, we are closed to the reality that there are many, many answers.”

We have been taught to think linear. That is the major mistake in our society today. When a person forces themselves to begin thinking outside these parameters great things begin to happen. Look around. Society seems to accept our belief system while silently questioning and wondering why. We are all so “establishment” now the bravado and enthusiastic pioneering spirit is close to extinction.

Not only is every human on earth different, every human on earth reacts the way they perceive their environment. Our education system is based on memorization. This type of learning is simply a conditioned response.

Learning, which never ceases is applying solutions to encountered situations. Now, put yourself in your desired environment, even though it may be imagined. Forget all conditioned responses. Intuition, which is also your subconscious connection to infinite intelligence, will educate correctly assuming you do not procrastinate.

The search for intelligent life outside our solar system has been baffled to this point by linear thinking, so, scrap the whole system. The whole search must be restarted regardless of the astronomical amounts invested so far, as we are sending good money after bad.

Every PhD and government accountant just gasped, but the financial aspect is nothing when you consider entire societies must accept the fact the new learning must be un-learning.. Remember all the world financial, food supply, acid rain, pollution, global warming and starvation problems will be eradicated with the amount of money spent on armaments in just one year.

This was established before Iraq.

Now we could throw in parapsychology too. Our beautiful, imaginative, creative enthusiasm is, and in many cases has been, “taught” right out of us.

Let all the brilliant students / staff at MIT and all the other technical engineering establishments start again from square one before they are “taught” into unquestioning conformity. Get the aero-space industry more involved in financial and supportive help. Make it tax deductible and industry will be pounding the doors down. Get them all away from lineal thinking. Lets “sell” the subconscious mind /infinite intelligence connection to these bright young “whiz -kids” before it is to late.

Outer space exploration must abandon the rocket power of today. How do black holes attract energy and light to their center? Think along these lines, not bigger and better jet power. Nuclear division tied to magnetic and gravitational power. Use the gravitational pull of the infinite number of stars, plus/minus of magnetism then the gravitational pull again and sort of “hop-scotch” through the universes. Or, use thought transference and then parallel universes are right here.

Do we really need to search millions of light years away when non-linear research just may find all the answers are right here, simply on a different vibration?

Esoteric thinking around sound waves, vibration, magnetism, “beam me up Scotty” it is all out there, the infinite intelligence, energy and thought is all out there waiting in that great “soup” that Mr. Hubble’s wonderful Tin Lizzy is so elegantly beaming back to us.

Can you now fathom we esoteric free thinkers will, and must create much more in the evolutionary path than those brainwashed academia’s bogged down dogmas. Unite! We are now in at least fourth, if not fifth density consciousness. It is our duty to society to contribute to this branch of evolution.

Remember, this incarnation was planned prior to your arrival with the help of all your passed loved ones and all the spirit astuteness you could muster. Just as in hypnotic recall, all becomes so clear. Now we must get on with the subconscious and infinite connection for even further results.

God, infinite intelligence, doesn't "fix things". It supplies you with all the answers, sometimes at the strangest times and lets you figure it out. Remember, imagination and intuition receiving from infinite intelligence or miracles are just determined by what you can accept, believe and comprehend without procrastination at this point in time. There are no coincidences.

You have fed infinite intelligence and it has created what you thought; not immediately but it will inevitably happen.

Those of you who question this are just unfortunate enough to have been trained to believe you have to see it or "it just isn't so". I remember a very learned man stating "It is not that society doesn't recognize the problem; it is what they think they know that just isn't so".

Intuition is the infinite intelligence and subconscious connection delivering messages to your conscious mind as it was decided you were ready. Think back to previous successes. Remember the exhilaration, the knowing this "hunch" was a big one. You knew you were on the right path and sure enough, you were. Now, keep that feeling fresh in your mind. Practice renewing that memory as this will sharpen your intuitive abilities.

Intuition is thought connected to infinite intelligence at the correct time. All matter is energy (the space between neutrons, protons and electrons). Thought is shackled energy; thought is therefore shackled matter. Intuition is the flux that brings it all together. You are now knocking at the door of undiminished success in every undertaking. Now Thought = Intuition = Action = Creativity = Material Results. You, my friend are abutting modern day mystic.

When we walked with our knuckles dragging, intuition was required and we managed to evolve. As evolution transpired and we began using logic, immediate danger lessened and intuitive ability lessened. We also stood more erect. Religion and science decided we were not intuitive, as it did not fit their self-centered belief.. We were then convinced we did not require intuition.

We must reactivate this ability on a large scale to steer conscious thought in the direction of betterment of mankind and the environment. Infinite intelligence and intuition introduces factual instruction for any and all situations. We must return to relying on subconscious intuition and act on it rather than others, scientific or religious telling us it is not so.

You are now searching. Great! That's why you are here now. I know we will now be of great assistance. Anyone who thinks they are helping you by forcing their shallow beliefs on you should be avoided at this point in time. Confrontation is not the path to enlightenment.

You must create space for those who are also searching. They are the same vibrations as you. Your old associates will soon notice the changes in you and will either ask how you have improved or should be blown off the lot. Don't blame them; just pity them, as to where they got their programming. It has led them to where they are now.

The subconscious mind is a mirror: If an ass peers into it, you can't expect an apostle to look out. Remember, intelligent people talk about ideas, average people talk about things and small people talk about other people.

Lead by example. Salesmanship is not required at this time. Remember the conscious mind does not want to shake up the status quo. As much as you are ready to make "the giant step for mankind" old deep rooted habits you are not even aware of would rather you stay just where you are.

Old habits, even those that are known to lead to failure in the past are what the conscious mind will accept as it might fear success and wealth from past deep rooted training of distrusting the successful and wealthy. Comfort is preferred rather than fast-forwarding to unknown territories because of the possible disappointment of unknown failure.

The conscious mind is simply a tool to channel perceived thought received from finite sources. The conscious mind acting on reflex action therefore creates near involuntary fear based results. Due to the inability of conscious mind to perceive actual events, it erects limits that you must perceive and grow beyond.

How very sad it is that some are ever striving after what is forbidden and coveting what is denied them. It is a sad fact that many have allowed themselves to be deluded into believing that this present world is all there is. They pay no heed to the fact infinite life through reincarnation is real. Their inability or fear of opening the conscious mind to the limitless subconscious is more of a "cop-out" than a belief system. They dismiss the outlines of reincarnation or life-hereafter as fabrications, as fear of new horizons controls their conscious mind. Gradually they become entombed in a dark pit of their own making. Once this old training is acknowledged and overcome it is startling how rapid progress will be made.

No one is researching the reason subliminals will change your way of thinking but subliminals do change your way of thinking as the subconscious mind works totally separate of the conscious mind.. Let us now not question the separateness of the two. Accept the subconscious connection to powers far beyond the conscious mind and everyday life. You will now require the strength of conviction as you are out there on your own, as every living human is on an individual path determined by the ultimate intelligence with that person's involvement prior to this, or any incarnation. Why is multiple incarnations any harder to believe than this incarnation?

Let us now research self hypnosis. What is the matter with self subliminal? As you go into a trance (meditating) repeat “I am infinite intelligence, I have all answers, I am all knowing”. Very soon you will accept the connection without question.

Congratulations, Self Subliminal Success. We can refer to it as the three S's. Now you are on your way to great accomplishments. You have been kept in the dark long enough. Lead by example. Explain results only when asked. Like vibrations will surface more plentiful and quicker than you expected.

Self Subliminal Success will take us all to unbelievable heights and it is our duty and destiny to inform our loved ones and closest associates. We are on the verge of brave new worlds but we will be the Galileo of modern day and we all know how he was received.

We will learn from past experience, which is at our fingertips through our connections. Remember, if the solution does not hit you as an inspiration, you will meet another expert, a book will suddenly surface or a new associate will, without request, simply explain your next moves. The “movement” is now underway and great accomplishments will become second nature now that the pyramid effect is in motion.

I must emphasize, do not let enthusiasm send you off seemingly to solve all the world's problems overnight. We will overcome in your lifetime, so sit back and smell the roses. Inevitability is without a doubt. Connect, meditate, go in to trance, self sublimate, do not question, the pineal gland is working overtime for you now. Like reaching the highest peak, it all becomes so clear. We are the creators of all. We are the energy thought that creates all matter. Now we should depart and return to this point slightly slower.

Make your own decisions. DNA proved no two humans are alike. Once a person realizes their unique natural ability their subconscious mind/infinite intelligence connection supplies correct solutions to all situations.

This is GOD Speaking - I'm Annoyed

Buy The Complete Version of This Book at Booklocker.com:

<http://www.booklocker.com/p/books/2139.html?s=pdf>