

In The Awesome Realm of the Soul, we learn why reincarnation is the only logical way to structure the universe. We also learn how the different incarnations are planned and what the requirements are to achieve eternal life.

PRETEND YOU'RE THE CREATOR GOD

Norma playing the role of Pat in the Seven Year Itch

Hey Neil," I said, "Look at this picture of me. It's the only time I tried to do any acting. If my memory serves me, I had one line to say and couldn't say it right. I hated every minute of acting and never tried it again."

Windows on the Past

We were looking through old photograph albums and I had come across an eight by ten black and white picture of me taken approximately 40 years ago.

“I guess that wasn’t what you were meant to do, was it?” Neil asked laughing.

“You know, I could play the piano in front of a crowd of 5000 people and it wouldn’t bother me, but I couldn’t say one line in a play,” I responded.

“Some people were born to act; they just love it,” Neil said, “but I don’t think I would like it.”

“Theater is good for some adults, because when they can pretend they are someone else they can remove their vanity from a situation and express their feelings by hiding behind the character,” I said

“Perhaps the theater should be an important part of the schools in the future,” Neil replied.

“You’re right. I think theater productions should be one of the main tools of educators through role playing to help students understand many things. A few teachers are trying this, but more need to use this tool. Let’s see if we can access the TimeTraveler and get his thoughts on role playing as far as it being a tool for spiritual growth,” I said.

“That’s a good idea,” Neil responded.

Start of Humans

One way that role playing would help on the spiritual path would be to pretend that you are the Creator. This would help a person understand why reincarnation is the only logical way to structure the universe.

The actual start of human beings, where spiritual and physical evolution meet, took place when the divine spirits began to enter the refined animal forms to learn and experience the animalistic nature of earth so that they would have control of earth. (They have finally realized that they cannot control the nature forces of the planets, but can learn to control the nature forces, “animal nature,” of the forms or “bodies”.)

After the first unsuccessful try at entering the animal bodies, the thought-forms had just been floating around over the planet waiting for the animal forms to develop to the point where they could try to enter them again. They had quite a long wait before the forms were really refined to the point where you, Michael the Creator God, thought that your children could try it again.

You emphatically told the first group of sparks (the first ray) that they had to be bold and brave and in control at all times; that they had to make a place for themselves in an unfriendly uninhabited little world. They were the pioneers, the forgers of the path for those who would come after. They must tear down any barricades to their entrance and destroy anything that stood in their way or tried to keep them from taking up residence there. Indeed, they had to be very strong, forceful and bold.

When you sent the second group (ray) down, you realized that the actions of the first group were almost those of a bully and needed to be tempered with a little love and lots of wisdom. You saw right away that the tactics of the first group were a little too forceful.

Windows on the Past

Therefore, you gave orders to the second group that they should calm the first group down; always use their head to reason things out and to love the first group and all who come after them.

When you sent the third group down, you were trying to find the way that worked best and you told them to experiment, to always be open to new ideas and new ways of doing things. You did not want them to be dictatorial, like the first group, nor did you want them reasoning every move out like the second group. You were trying to strike a happy medium with this third group by having them open to trying to find the better way, but not agonizing over each decision; to be as a scientist in his laboratory proving his theories.

This, then, caused much friction between these three, very different groups. You realized that you had to send in a fourth group to act as a referee between the first three. You needed to have a mediator, a go-between, to find a way to balance the tendencies of each group. This would enable each group to see that there was good in each other's ideas. (The fourth group still has to do this. This is where those wanting to enter any branch of the judicial system will be found, entering on this fourth ray as their personality ray.)

You thought, "Ah! At last I'm getting somewhere. Things have calmed down enough and they're getting along so well now, that I can finally send in my intellectual group." They had been waiting to come in, but you had to get things in balance before they entered so they would find an atmosphere conducive to study and learning and be able to come up with theories of the best way to do things. In fact, they found the others eager for their knowledge and became, in their own way, little dictators, mental dictators, not physical bullies like the first group. They, the fifth group, decided that their way of doing things was the best way, the right way, the only way. So they put everything in neatly labeled boxes and presented the boxes to the people.

When you realized that the fifth group had also “messed it up,” you decided to send in the sixth group to tone down this fifth group. You felt the fifth group needed to be shown that they should be able to bend, that a little flexibility wouldn’t hurt anything. The sixth group had been lectured before entry by you, that you didn’t like all that strict mental discipline and to loosen things up with some fantasy and day-dreaming, to make the world a little softer and more comfortable. This the sixth group did, but wouldn’t you know it, they went overboard also and became fanatics, devoted to following your orders. This was the only area of interest to them and they became almost unbearable to be around.

At last, in desperation and running out of groups to send in, you sent the seventh wave in so you could stay in touch, through open channels, with all the groups. This seventh wave is your communicator group. Through them you can keep order and keep them on the path, setting things right between all of them. You did indeed endow those on this ray with special equipment and gave them special orders. This group on the seventh ray also had their “black sheep,” but as you had run out of groups, for now you would have to let things work as they would. You had done your best and you had your communicators to send messages to the rest of the groups. There are enough of these communicators working for your good that the few “black sheep” among them don't seem to be that much of a danger – or are they?

At last, you thought. It was working! It really was working, but then again, in another way, it wasn't working. Remember, these thought-forms were unisexual. They were a combination of both sexes; they had the qualities of both sexes in their make-up, but the animal bodies, the cave men, were either male or female in one body. Therefore, there was both the male and female spark in the male body; and also the male and female spark in the female body. There were fights like you wouldn't believe.

This was the stage of Atlantis. It was a mess. Even you could not control it. You had lost all control. Those animal men, those cave men, had no thought as far as anyone else went. Having both parts, male and female, in the same body made for not only very wise, knowledgeable, creative entities, but at the same time created many warped minds.

You felt you had to do something. You decided that you were going to almost have to start over again, only with the refined cave man instead of clear back to the early animal. You asked for help from an older brother who had gone on to another galaxy. This brother sent help in the form of storms that practically destroyed this beautiful earth. This was at the time of the disappearance of Atlantis. But you had to have this done because the cave men were going to destroy themselves if you didn't do it, so you cleaned it up. The most advanced of the cave men and the most advanced of the animals were saved and you started your creation over.

This was when you determined that there needed to be a total, complete, sure way to have control of some sort over an entity after he or she had incarnated. You knew that new rules and regulations were needed concerning the entering of bodies, so the boundaries for reincarnating into this human form were tightened up at this time from what they had been previously. This was part of the control that was needed. Having both halves of the spark together was, indirectly, the cause of all that went wrong in Atlantis. You decided that it did not work for the two halves of one spark, the male and the female halves, to be in manifestation (living in a body) at the same time because there was no control, no system of checks and balances

Beginning at this time half of the divine spark was all that was allowed to enter the form. The other half had to stay on the inner planes and control the half that went into the body – therefore the rule was made that when the male half incarnated, the female did not. She stayed on the inner planes to help and guide the male half. When the female half was incarnated, the male half stayed on the inner planes. This rule, the splitting of the spark, made by you the Creator God was painful. It was just as painful to the one who had to stay out of incarnation as it was to the one who went down. There was only half of himself down there. It was very frightening and it was going to take much longer now for each divine spark to gain the experiences he needed to have with only one half in incarnation on the earth in a human body.

As the Creator God you have this beautiful world down there and you people it with your children. They need to have lesson after lesson to understand what it is that you want them to learn. Would you educate your child with one month in the first grade and call it education? That is the equivalent of what one life on the earth plane would be.

As the Creator God above the little world, you can see that one lifetime has hardly scratched the surface of the experiences your children need to have. Now, are you going to create new children each time one died? Are you going to say: “Too bad little one; you really didn’t learn all you needed to learn and all that I wanted you to learn. You blew it! Sorry, but that was your only chance. Yes, you realize now how you could have done it differently. You’re much wiser now and would really like to try again, but sorry, I’ve just created a new spirit and it’s his turn now. You’ll just have to go to the heaven that I’ve set aside for you as a final resting place for dead spirits. You’ll never get another chance, but don’t feel bad. Nothing more will ever be demanded of you or asked of you. You have no more worries or responsibilities, so just go to your heaven and lie around.”

Is this what you would do if you were the Creator God? If you became attached to the spirits and really learned to love them, would you continually bring into creation new spirits and condemn the first to death? Even though you were learning yourself by watching them struggle, don’t you think you would be inclined to let them try again? After all, they did promise to do better the next time and they really do deserve another chance. That way you don’t have to keep creating new ones all the time. Let’s keep the original a while longer and see what they can really accomplish if they have more chances.

In fact, let's draw up a lesson plan and set rules and regulations for our little world and a time outline, a loose outline, as to the stages of progress we expect of them. Wouldn't you, as the Creator God, then have a better feeling about your world? Wouldn't you have a better feeling about its place in the universe as a growing, budding flower that would become beautiful when it finally came of age and graduated into the next realm of reality as a sparkling jewel?

You, in your "let's pretend" role of Creator God, soon begin to realize that reincarnation is the logical, sensible, compassionate way to run your little world. You realize you have done all you can as far as the seven different ray groups helping each other. You begin to see the necessity for rules and regulations to govern the cycle of lives, the recirculation of these beautiful divine sparks of yours.

Wouldn't letting this growth take place give you greater satisfaction than just creating new spirits, letting them have only one chance to see what they could do and then creating more, hoping each new group created would do more and be smarter just because you, as the Creator God, were wiser when you created them? Yes you as the Creator God learned by watching the first group and perhaps the next group will be a little more evolved, but what are you going to do with all those dead spirits filling up spirit heaven? You're going to have a disposal problem eventually. You can't just keep moving more in there. It's already overflowing!

Continue picturing yourself as the Creator God and watch those people you put on your little world. You have given them free will and are curious to see what they will do with it. Will they abuse it? Yes, at first, very much so. To try and control them, you give them a conscience. This helps, but not enough to stop much of the misuse of free will. (It still hasn't stopped the misuse.) Everything you've done since then has been in the area of trying to get your people to take responsibility for the actions they are taking because of free will.

They eventually start growing up a little, but it is so hard for them to discipline themselves. If someone would just do it for them, they think, how much easier it would be. So they give the power to tell them what to do and what not to do to others whom they call priests, ministers, rabbis, etc. "Ah," they think, "now all responsibility is out of my hands. It is all on the priest's shoulders. Now it's his fault if I do something I shouldn't. He didn't teach me right or tell me I shouldn't do such an act. But anyway, all I have to do is say that I'm sorry and all will be well. If I slip again, same process – big deal. I really don't have a care in the world."

You see this happening in your little world and think, "Oh boy, now what? They're pretty sly, these ones I put down there. I'll have to think up another way to get them to take responsibility for themselves; we'll go to plan B, which is to send a messenger down in person to try to get the truth across to them that they simply aren't growing at all when they let another take responsibility for their actions. This simply can't go on."

Some heed the messenger's words and things get a little better, but then they turn in a different direction. You, as Creator God, have to come up with plan C. What's it going to be? Things are in pretty bad shape down there. Would you take away their free will, that precious gift? By this time, even though you would like to, you are only able to take it away in a limited manner. Nevertheless, you would do what you could to eliminate free will as much as possible. One way to do this would be through their economy. A downturn in this area certainly has the effect of putting the brakes on free will. In fact, perhaps it's working better than you could have hoped.

One way to make the economy worse would be through the weather patterns. This would put hardships on them. Aha! They are growing more responsible aren't they? They're starting to think about what they've been doing with all the freedom they had to use their free will, and are being much more mature about it.

You, as the Creator God have discovered that you made a few goofs here and there, that things would have worked better with a built-in restraint on free will. It is too late now. The only way to incorporate this into humanity is through education of the young. Free will is the one thing above all others that you wish you could take back. It is the direct cause of all humanities' woes at this time.

As you continue playing the role of the Creator God, you look down there at them arguing, fighting, hitting, and even killing each other. They are still very barbaric, aren't they? You could separate them. Maybe it would work better to take the ones who have grown past that stage and put them in a separate little world.

“No, I'd like to try keeping them all together, because it really is all the scattered parts of me, you know. If I separate some off, it will be like cutting off one of my arms or legs.”

Windows on the Past

“They are all part of one body and they must learn to get along and cooperate with each other. As long as one leg wants to go one way and one the other, and one arm reach up and the other down, and the head turn opposite of the body, we’re not going to make any progress are we? Picture a doll, if you can, twisted in this shape and you’ll have a better idea of what this would look like. Well, there just has to be some way to get them all headed in one direction. I’ll have to have a set of immutable laws and then a system of reinforcement to make them work.”

“The laws will be the same for all, not only for my little world, but for all my brothers’ worlds. Of course, they are more advanced than my world and the set of laws governing those worlds worked quite well. I will use them also in my little world, but I may have to add a few extra. Just look at them down there!”

Of all the universal laws, the one law that heads the top of the list for all worlds is: “Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You.” This one law really does say it all, and that is the basic building block for all worlds. This brings the responsibility home to the individual, where it belongs. The other laws are breakdowns and definitions of all stages of this one law. The individual is not only the victim; he is also the perpetrator, the judge, and the jury. This is the way it must be, and if it could but be enforced on that little world, there would be no problems, because all problems would be self-administered and self-resolved. As it is, it will have to be taught and shown to them by example. This can be done because you did decide to recycle them, remember, instead of making new ones. You will take advantage of this recycling to teach them the law of karma – that what they sow, they will reap.

You will keep them circulating until they're evolved enough to progress to the next realm. You would have a better feeling, wouldn't you? Instead of just being interested in your own growth and progress as a Creator God, you determine that the only possible answer is to let them each grow and evolve until they can move on. After all, if you learned from watching them in one lifetime, think how much more you would learn by watching them through many lifetimes and experiences. Wouldn't letting them do their own perfecting to as great an extent as they are capable of help you learn and grow more, rather than continually trying to create a perfect spirit?

When all your lines and sparks have returned, you, the Creator God, will move on to the next classroom, the fifth planet, where you will not want to separate yourself into individual sparks. You will want to experience things as a whole soul, to keep all parts of you together, to learn and experience in an enclosed situation. This will enable you to synthesize the experiences of each individual spark and determine what worked to make you a better Creator God and what did not. By this time you will be a very wise Oversoul.

Chapter Eight

THE SPIRITUAL PLANETS

Neil and I were looking through the photo albums on my computer again..

“Look at this picture taken in Hawaii. It is so beautiful. I get such a spiritual feeling every time I look at it,” I said to Neil.

“It really is quite pretty,” Neil said.

“I guess maybe the wind was blowing a little, but somehow I seem to see it as ‘spirit’ in this picture, moving through the air and touching everything,” I said.

Kauai Beach in Hawaii

Hickox – The Awesome Realm of the Soul

“Hawaii really has a very spiritual feeling to it, doesn’t it?” Neil asked.

“Maybe it’s what they call the ‘aloha’ spirit,” I replied. “It really is peaceful there. Part of it might be the beautiful music they play everywhere – in the buses you ride and the stores where you shop and the restaurants where you eat.”

“As far as I’m concerned another thing that adds to this special feeling is the fact that there are birds everywhere,” Neil said. “They’re even allowed in restaurants which absolutely floored me the first time we experienced that.”

“Me too, I was really surprised at how birds are treated over here. It’s all part of such a peaceful feeling which is what I think implies spirituality,” I said.

“I hope it’s as beautiful as this when we go to the higher spiritual planets on our journey through the twelve planes. I have the feeling that the TimeTraveler can tell us exactly what each of the twelve planets is like,” I said.

“Why don’t you see if you can contact him and find out?” Neil asked. “I’d like to know.”

The Twelve Planes

The life lived on the first three planets was not of the kind that can even be conceived of by humanity. I’ll only say that these planets have evolutionary plans like planet earth has. All three of the previous planets had their plans and still have their plans. Yes, life of some form is found on all planets, but is not recognizable by us as life, because we have nothing with which to compare it.

Planet Number One

These early planet evolutionary chains are not appealing to humans. The first one is simply air, that's all; just the atmosphere itself. This is the start of life in our solar system - ions and neutrons that make up air, electrically charged air that eventually starts forming into thoughts and ideas.

Planet Number Two

When a thought forms enough to ask, "Is this all there is?" it immediately finds itself on the second planet. Here it develops into small ringlets of atoms that make up storms with lots of wind and rain. The energy that forms into groups on planet two tends to stay together through the whole trip. Eventually the ringlets get tired of playing around this way making storms. Even though it is quite pleasant, it begins to seem quite useless.

Planet Number Three

When this thought strikes this particular ringlet of energy, it leaves the atmosphere of planet number two and proceeds to planet number three. It is still in the gaseous form, but develops into a thinking bolt of lightning, an electrical line of energy. These ringlets (groups) cling together like the grease puddles floating on top of the kettle of soup, because "like attracts like." One ringlet of energy is human, one animal, one plant, and one mineral. The human band or ringlet is by far stronger and larger and much more intelligent. It is the main part, the largest ringlet. It makes up about ninety percent of the Oversoul. It plays around planet number three until it realizes that if it has progressed to this stage, there must be more.

Planet Number Four

It leaves planet number three as a lightning bolt and strikes planet number four (earth). When the energy flare hits earth, the top half of the energy stays up above and, like a whirlpool, the bottom half spirals down. The energy is spinning so fast that because the top half is stationary, it eventually breaks in two and that explosion releases the divine sparks. The bottom part of the energy, the very bottom, is the mineral track; next is the vegetable tract, next is the animal track and then the sparks themselves are for the human track. Because the energy at the bottom didn't shatter into sparks, (mineral, vegetable and animal), these kingdoms are not individualized. Therefore we should think of all things in nature as our younger brothers and sisters in whom we are in charge. Because of our having the superior intelligence, we are responsible for them. They evolve right along with us.

There is an ethereal realm of planet earth which is the true fourth mind dimension and planet. It is a different vibratory mind dimension and planet, but is a "preview," if you will, of what perfect conditions could be on earth. Theories are tested here in an unmanifested state before being sent down to be implemented in manifestation on the earth plane. There is a well-planned field of help and expertise for everyone. The lower levels are the hardest and take much work. The more quickly contact is made with the other half of your soul the easier and faster your progress will be from that point on.

Windows on the Past

The minute the thought strikes that you know all you need to know and you truly feel satisfied and knowledgeable, your growth and evolution stops. The thought, "There must be more than this," is the only way to progress. You must tell yourself that even though you understand spiritual concepts at the level where you are, you know that you really don't have the whole answer. You know there is a deeper understanding. That tells your teachers and guides that you are ready for more.

The fourth dimension is on the ethereal body of the earth. The spirit of each planet is found on the ethereal bodies of these planets. As an entity moves from the first to the second to the third he moves into the spirit, the ethereal body, before he is able to go on to the next planet. When he moves to the next planet then he goes to the physical body of the planet and elevates himself, working his way up through the twelve levels of that planet and into the ethereal body. This then permits him to move on to the next planet. The same thing takes place there and that permits him to move on. Each time, then, the entities work their way up through the twelve planes on each planet and into the ethereal body. Actually, the ethereal body is where that true dimension is. The planet itself is still on the dimension previous to it.

Let's compare this to our schools. It would be as if a child in the second grade is still considered to be of first grade accomplishments until he has completed that second grade. At that time is when he would be called a second grader. Those in the third grade are considered to be of second grade mentality until they have finished the third grade. This is the same thing that takes place on the planets. They're not even first dimensional until they climb through the twelve planes of the first planet and get to the ethereal body of the first planet. Then they are considered first dimensional. The same thing takes place on the second, third and fourth planets, the fourth being earth. You will not be considered fourth dimensional until you have climbed through the twelve levels of the fourth planet and graduate into the fourth dimension ethereal form or body.

Planet Number Five

When the twin is found, you plus your twin spark, plus all the knowledge of each one's former incarnations, progress to the fifth plane for healing and preparation for the rest of the journey. When this move is made you will be in a loving, protected atmosphere of healing and learning. This fifth planet is a very restful, peaceful, healing group experience. All twin sparks have been found and the sparks are united again, not only with each other but with all other sparks, into one divine lightning bolt. (This is the planet (plane) that would come the closest to what people think of as heaven, as rejoining our maker, etc.) It is truly a healing and joyous time, but is certainly not the end of the line, by any means. The journey has just started.

The ring of energy swirling around planet number five is where the thought-forms for this planet are located, instead of on the planet itself. It is a higher step in evolution and does not sound appealing at all to those on earth; but when a divine spirit is ready for this stage, it is a goal to be strived for vigorously as it is a beautiful plane. All are together, and experience a terrific feeling of well-being and wholeness. Each divine spark is in thought-form. There is much work on individual attitudes and why they had thought that being separated from each other would be a good experience. They found out that it wasn't and they are very happy to be rejoined with each other. There is no pain or illness or frustration and no ego problems or timid souls. All are equal in a way they never can be at all on earth. There is no difference in sexes.

When each divine spark making up a bolt of lightning feels rested and happy and healed and feels it has really accomplished something, looking back over its long term on earth, the lightning bolt begins to get bored and that same old thought strikes – “there must be more to life than all this happiness and well-being.” This boredom drives it from its safe, restful haven of the fifth planet and sends it to the sixth. The evolutionary stay on the fifth planet is not as long as on others. The eighth planet is a short trip, as is the twelfth.

The following is a description of planet five by one of the teachers who had already been through all the planets and was waiting above planet twelve.

Planet Five

“When we have perfected ourselves we move into the fifth planet which is Saturn. The energy on Saturn, the thought-forms, is in the band of energy around the planet. Let there be no doubt about this. This is where we are found and we stay there and circulate. It’s like one big macro spaceship, if you want to picture it that way. This is the first ring of energy or satellite. Another term for a satellite would be a planet or a spaceship. This is what we want understood. It is very difficult because the material gets mixed up with the macro man and the micro man. The progression from the human standpoint of view, which is what you are when you are on the earth plane, is to this big planet Saturn, the macro universe. Then when we want to travel back to you, we become the micro men and this object that you view as a planet becomes a spaceship. This is very confusing. You can picture a ring of energy either way. This ring of energy can be said to be Saturn. This is where we all go when we're joined with our twin souls and we join that ring of energy around Saturn. This is the first stage of help back to planet earth, but on an individualistic basis. This would be the 1st ring of energy that you can tap into. When you tap into it in your inner being, in order to bring it down to your size, you need to picture us as micro men and picture that planet as a space ship which you can see inside your mind through your third eye. The functioning of your third eye opens up the two higher levels of your mind at that point. You can reach us from the second section of your mind."

"To explain, the first section of your mind is the first, second and third planets, the second section of your mind is the fourth, fifth and sixth planets. Your first point of contact, of course, would be the fourth dimension, the very next plane above you; the very next level above you. But then you move on to the fifth and your contacts with the sixth and then when you go into seventh is where you can see us through the third eye. This is where your (Norma) information, most of it in this time period, has been coming from, although since I, David, took over it has been coming from even above that. It has been coming from outside this solar system. I am spirit above the Oversoul's path, his twelve levels, so I am quite a ways above."

Records Left on Rungs of Ladder

“As I moved up through these rings of energy, I left records on the rungs of the ladder. I left records on the fifth dimension and as I moved out from the fifth dimension, through the last pass of the Oversoul and moved on to the sixth, I left records of more advanced knowledge on six. I moved on to seven and from seven on to eight, but from here on, our vibration is so high that its very difficult to reach back and there are very few that can come back down. This breakthrough with you is highly unusual because there are seven of us that can reach back to you. This has not been possible earlier because there were not that many of us who are capable of it, and also, you did not have the capability at that time. Your mission has all been planned that you reach this stage at the same point that we reached our stage, so that we could reach back and contact you and give this information, trying to explain humanity to themselves.”

“Now to get back to the ring of energy on planet five, we would like you to picture this as circular stair steps going up in the micro men stage of it, even though you can still picture it from your point of view on earth as the macro stage of the planets growing bigger and higher, etc.

“As you raise your own consciousness you can then contact the next plane up. Now my records will still be there. I as David, who am above it all as spirit, have left records on the fifth plane that you can contact and tap into the wisdom and knowledge that I possessed at the time that I was there, but I am no longer there. You’re contacting my records at that point. And the same thing takes place as you move into the sixth and the seventh and the eighth and so on right on up. You’re behind me.

Hickox – The Awesome Realm of the Soul

You have to be behind me the exact number of generations that were between us from the time when I was on the earth plane until I no longer had to recirculate. Do you understand what I'm trying to say? I will always be that far ahead of you. That spacing will always be there. It's just like your birth years on the earth plane. You can never catch up to someone who was born four years ahead of you or ten years ahead of you. That difference is always going to be there, and that difference will always be there on these rings of energy, this beam of Holy Spirit."

Planet Number Six

The sixth planet is a very necessary splintering classroom again, probably the next most difficult after earth. The knowledge gained through all the incarnations on earth and all the feelings of separateness have been stored in the divine core or computer of your existence to be pulled out when they are needed on the sixth planet. This knowledge will be as instinct and intuition then and you will be free to experience and learn higher teachings.

The sixth planet is very beautiful, but all are alone. They cannot see or sense each other. They are totally alone. They have a beautiful environment, but no one to talk to about it. They have plenty of food which they partake of alone. They, if they could see themselves, are in beautiful etheric bodies, but it makes no difference because there is no one to see them. Their seed core knows by instinct and intuition that there is no joy if it cannot be shared with others. If they thought they were lonely on earth, they did not know what loneliness was. This is loneliness. Even though the twin sparks are not separated here, they realize that having each other and being whole that way is not enough. They, the whole divine spark, male and female together, realize they want others around to share this beauty and abundance. The foliage is very lush and green. Although the climate is quite hot, one can cool off under the shade of the trees by a beautiful waterfall. There are huge vines with big clumps of fruit; delicious to eat, but there seems to be nothing to do, no purpose, no pain, no goals. They begin to feel, “What am I doing here? Is this all there is, this paradise with nothing to do but sit around in beauty all day? There must be more!”

Drawing of Planet Six by Norma

They then begin to plan what they would do if only there were others around to do it with. They have all this time to analyze how the evolutionary track of other planets could be improved, because they do remember the previous planets. They think, “If only I could try this experiment or bounce this idea off someone else. I wonder if it would work. These are the goals I want to set to try and help universal life be improved.” All this is done has to be done, before the whole spark can move on to planet seven.

Humanity is not ready for the concepts and higher thought processes that go on above the fifth plane. The fifth plane attitudes are easily understood by any with reasonable intelligence. The sixth plane could be understood by the highly intelligent. I say not educated, as this will not make a difference. Intelligence and evolution are the two contributing factors to understanding sixth plane thought-forms. Seventh plane is beyond most on earth today.

One sixth plane concept coming to mind is that of “greater power to bridge-over destiny.” To bridge-over something is to find a higher way, though a longer way, to reach a goal. The straight level path to a goal is shorter, but there is no sense of satisfaction or excitement attached to reaching it. If one were to bridge-over to the goal, one would find a higher area of consciousness that would make that goal look more difficult to attain because one must accomplish a higher task first before allowing oneself to attain the original goal. This causes much growth in the evolutionary process on the sixth plane. Say, for instance, one sets a goal that he wants to reach, such as learning to transmit to level four when he progresses to level seven. This is not a terribly difficult task to learn when the right receiver is found, although it takes much energy. He therefore sets a primary goal of having a new concept in some field or other, such as education or medicine that is worth being transmitted because it will help humanity. Therefore, before he can accomplish the goal of transmitting, he must come up with a concept that is totally new and all his own. He must get over this hurdle first and in this way the second goal, which was the original goal, is achieved with a sense of satisfaction and meaning.

This is a difficult and seemingly silly concept to those on planet four, but to those on planet six it is easily understood as they are at this time unisex, the two are one. They have a whole feeling about themselves that is unattainable on planet four. This feeling of wholeness makes goals easier to accomplish and therefore the challenge is not there that this spirit is used to having drive him. He therefore sets a double goal, as he is a double entity. The challenge then is what impels him forward. This is an example, the easiest example, of a sixth plane concept.

The following is a description of planet six by one of the teachers who had already been through all the planets and was waiting above planet twelve.

Planet Six

“After we’ve perfected ourselves on the earth plane we are all together. To begin with, we have joined our twin and we are one whole complete soul. This is a beautiful feeling. You have no idea; you just can’t imagine what a wonderful feeling this is going to be when it does happen. Not only are we joined with them, but we are then also joined in group consciousness, almost back together totally again as the Oversoul was before He split and went down to experience on the earth plane. Earth plane is a very difficult plane for the Oversoul. After that, when the Oversoul is all joined together on planet five, we move as the total Oversoul on to planet six where the Oversoul again shatters His sparks, but more gently as He did in the beginning on the earth plane and we do not split into two halves. We stay a whole complete spark.”

“This dimension is one of what you might call the occult blindness dimension because we cannot see or communicate with others. We have to be alone and plan for what we will do when we can progress to the next planet, planet number seven. While on this sixth plane we are beautiful. We’re whole, and totally beautiful. Our surroundings, our environment is totally beautiful with luscious trees, luscious fruit and luscious food. We are luscious, but there is no one to appreciate us and no one to discuss ideas or thoughts with. We’re a thought-form and as thought-forms we have thought-formed ourselves into these beautiful bodies and we have all these beautiful thoughts, but as we said, there is no one to discuss them with.”

“But we do plan ideas that we think will help those behind us when we get to the point where we can reach back and help with more substantial help than the seventh planet can give. They can give some thought impression back, but it’s just not as strong. It is much more individualistic type of thing. Let us put it this way – there is no conglomerate like you are in touch with now. When you get to planet seven is when two or three will join together, or even maybe five will start joining together, perhaps even the same other thought-forms that they joined with on planet two as ringlets of energy. And because they have similar ideas that they would like to pass back to humanity to try to help and they are interested in the same thing, they join together. We are also still talking space ships, when you get right down to it, because we are micro men in these space ships. This is the way we contact you, as we said, through the third eye. But at the same time, from the Oversoul's view, we are on the huge planet Venus. I'm afraid the more we talk about it this is the more confusing it's going to be. You're almost going to have to keep a double picture in your mind or pretend that the planet Venus is the Mother Ship and we take the little ships out from there and come down to you. That perhaps would be the best way to state it."

"We then go on to planet seven where we have a very, busy, beautiful existence. This is probably the most beautiful of all planets in the crystalline white colors with overtones of lavender and purple. It is just absolutely a beautiful existence and we know that we are helping those behind us. This is the planet of help, number seven. This was my favorite and I stayed there probably longer than I needed to and I left considerable records on this planet."

Planet Number Seven

The divine sparks were one when they left the third planet and were splintered apart when they struck earth. They must become one again before leaving earth for planet number five as this is the planet of group work. It's very hard to describe. The bolt of lightning will remain a bolt of lightning (energy) on planet number five to be splintered apart again on the sixth and seventh levels, then brought back together on eight, apart on nine and ten, etc. At times they (the sparks) can glimpse a couple of planets ahead of them and even visit the next one when times are right, but cannot stay until they have completed the cycle of their own planet.

The seventh planet will ever be the one to reach back to the fourth planet, earth. The seventh plane is a helping, teaching and guiding planet. This is where most inner plane teaching comes from. It is beautiful here and a very busy and fulfilling planet. All who are here are helping those on earth and at the same time preparing themselves for planet number eight.

The following is a description of the seventh planet by one of my teachers and guides.

“On the seventh planet, the cities are crisscrossed or braided with crystal overhead. Many other designs are used also, and these overhead patterns form prisms which reflect gorgeous colors. This is our atmosphere. The rays of the sun are bent and twisted and layered automatically to produce exactly the right climate conditions. Our atmosphere shimmers because of the water vapor which is produced by the reaction of light from the prisms on certain materials found in the soil. The vapor is lighted by the prisms at the same time that it is formed. This produces an atmosphere of shimmering colors, unbelievably beautiful.”

“Hanging lights store the rays during the peak hours of sun and reflect them back when they are needed during the dimmer hours of the cycle. They glow, like your moon, only much brighter as they are designed to hold and store and then emit the light, not just reflect it as your moon does.”

“The edifices are tall and the tops of them are woven and connected into the crystal pattern that is over the city. The roof or tower of the edifice you live in is designed to reflect the color ray you are working on at the time. We are in groups in our own place of residence, a series of rooms that are just for us. We have three colors of our own choosing in our home."

Drawing of Planet Seven by Norma

"A large crystal wheel rolls slowly down an area and back, very leisurely. You may take a seat and effortlessly you arrive at your destination. We do not travel far from our abodes, only for special meetings."

"We are clothed mostly in shimmering white as this can then absorb the colors of the prisms, much like the light globes. As they absorb and store, so do our clothes. When we leave our particular edifice and go to another, we glow with our own color band. We turn the force to emit instead of absorb so we don't reflect the color of the place we are visiting. Those who cannot do this yet show rainbow colors. They are not as advanced as we who are able to do this. It is a matter of the cycles. We have rest cycles here. The number of cycles one has evolved through determines their ability to do this. The highest cycle is the purple as stated before. My gold will transcend through a blending and fusing of green and then into blue and again will have to merge the blue and the pink of love to blend into purple. I have a long way to go to reach this color.”

“My name is Korlon and I am associated with Sananda (Jesus) at different times. He is remarkable and beautiful, a model for all to follow. He emits the most beautiful shade of purple, when He is with us. Other times His white glow is what is seen and felt.”

Those on the seventh plane are still separated from the lightning bolt, but as a whole spark. They think, “Here are others. Here is order and purpose and learning and service to others and exploration and activity. This is where I want to stay.” Here is where they will get a chance to accomplish the goals they set after all the meditation and analyzing and planning that was done on planet six.

Some of them have had many lives on the earth, especially those on the seventh plane. This is the plane that all information comes from except the technical or scientific material and some of the spiritual teachings. Anything relating to people, places and things on the earth plane will be from the seventh plane.

Those on planet seven are unisex you know. Some of them, most of them, choose to be seen as the male sex, but they are the two halves back together again. They must reach this stage to be able to progress to where they are. In other words, when they have progressed enough to not have to incarnate again, (both halves of the spark reach this point at approximately the same time), then they can join a conglomerate. Their “good deeds” records of the whole divine spark are joined and stored in the ring of energy around their conglomerate. This is their vibratory field.

The following is a description of planet seven from one of my teachers who was on planet seven at the time:

“There is no aging on other planets due to compressed time, which is a seventh plane concept. You arrive here on planet seven as an adult and move on as an adult, looking exactly the same as when you entered this planet. You have grown and changed mentally, to be sure, but your body, being an ethereal one, does not change form. You choose it; you create it. You do the modeling of your body in your mind, like an artist modeling a statue. Because it is not made up of the matter that your physical form is, it does not deteriorate, but does go through energy cycles. It arrives here on the seventh planet with immense energy and, as this is a working planet of service to the universe, this energy is constantly being depleted.”

“When this happens, the ethereal body must be recharged and this is when our advisors tell us to enter our form of rest and relaxation states. These are forms of suspended animation, similar to an animal in hibernation. When we enter into one of these states, it is the end of a cycle and we start a new cycle when we leave this state. (I believe that this is similar to death and reincarnation on the earth planet - Norma). The length of time spent in suspended animation is determined by the amount of energy depletion and also which cycle we are in. Therefore, the first stage of suspended animation will not be as long a period as say the fifth or sixth one. We had determined the goal of evolutionary growth we wanted to attain while we were still on the sixth planet. In other words, we had charted our next year's turn in school and laid out our curriculum. When we have completed enough cycles to have completed our evolutionary growth for this pattern, we move on."

"One of my personal goals was in communication. I determined that all humanity's progress could be speeded up if communication could be established and maintained with lower planes, not just higher planes. This is a breakthrough, this communication between the earth plane and me that many have struggled for and hoped to attain for eons. I have spent many cycles trying different methods and different channels. We here feel that the knowledge and teachings we are able to send through you (Norma) will be of great benefit to mankind."

"Those on planet seven are so very happy to have assignments. Most start out as guides to planet four, helping them by thought impression all they can without overstepping the boundaries of universal law. They progress on this planet in a "school," so to speak, of duties. After so long as a guide and teacher on the inner planes with one individual, they move on to some other duty – the computer birthing room, the akashic records room, interplanetary communications, etc. They are given every opportunity to achieve whatever goal they set for themselves while on planet six. They also attend classes and may be assigned as a guide to a very adept pupil on planet four who has the same seedcore. They are divine spirits now. They have left the personalities and the soul and the seedcore behind. They have no further use for them.”

“A master of wisdom is one who has been through every phase of human expression that can be imagined. This one has suffered greatly all phases of human experience from physical injury and torture to betrayal by loved ones. There is no area in which this one has not had experience. When one reaches this stage, one usually wisely decides to not reincarnate anymore as he can do more good for humanity by staying on the inner planes. This way he can reach and help more people than the few that he could touch by reincarnating.”

“These masters are the teachers in the Halls of Wisdom here and do much healing of broken and bewildered spirits who arrive here. These masters also, at times, reach down to the earth plane to help a very adept pupil who deserves special nurturing because he is sincere. These masters then move on because their own evolution must continue eventually.”

“The bands of color that are seen around those on the inner planes do denote their progress. The lower planes have, believe it or not, more colors – many colors. The more evolved have fewer and eventually settle into one color band. The teaching ray that is having the biggest influence on a student is the more predominant color at that particular time.”

“The yellow band is the band of wisdom and knowledge. The green is the band of intelligence. The yellow or gold band is the soul’s forte; the green is the personality’s forte. One may have a great storehouse of wisdom and knowledge, but not the intelligence to put it to use; or rather one may have the intelligence, but not be using it. If this is so, the wisdom and knowledge will be useless.”

“Eventually the green band will widen out and be equal with the gold and the two will be absorbed into the blue band which is protective custody of all teachings. When the blue band then is blended with the pink, which is love, it will become the purple band of a master teacher. The colors do not mix and blend as an artist would do; they flow from one to another.”

“No two color bands are ever the same. They are as individual as the fingerprints of each human body, and are used for identification records in the computer rooms. The color bands are coded into the akashic records of each individual.”

“It is not only how many colors, or what colors, but also the depth and brilliance of each color that is recorded. There are many shades and hues and dimness and brightness and also a shimmer factor that enters in. Reading auras on the earth plane is a much more difficult task than on the inner planes where they are easily read.”

“The colors for music, rays of teachings, healing and planets are all the same. It is difficult to box them into the earth colors and this is why they are misinterpreted. Some see them as one thing, some another due to all the different factors. The ones given you,; first, red; second, orange; third, yellow; fourth, green; fifth, blue; sixth, pink; and seventh, white (or violet) are as accurate as can be to compare with what most humanity determines to be a certain color. The white of the seventh is so pure as to reflect the two previous colors at times and at other times also to reflect the two ahead of it. Due to the shimmering pearly deep look of the white, one could interpret it in many ways. A slight bit of color blindness would confuse orange and yellow or blue and green, etc.”

“All those from other galaxies and solar systems have different ways of interpreting colors. Each planet has its own color band itself and this determines the interpreting of colors for that particular planet. When a new solar system is forming, the whirling dust will act as though in a centrifuge and while spinning the particles will group together and form planets. It is amazing to watch this take place. It is beautiful. Swirling colors first blend, then separate to blend again and separate again. At the final forming, all colors will separate into their own group and this determines the colors of the different planets. Earth's color is truly green, but is being misinterpreted as blue by those who are viewing it from the moon. From further out in space it truly shows emerald green. The colors are tied to the musical keytones that all humans have. One is a visual l.D. and the other an audio l.D.”

“We do much experimenting with the light from prisms and the effect the sun's rays have on all phases of life here. I am experimenting with a musical instrument called a galaxeon. The prisms reflect different colored lights which in turn activate certain tones producing beautiful sounds.”

“We teach our own particular subject in the Halls of Wisdom and also attend classes. At all times we are trying to help those on planet four. If we have a particular charge we await an opportunity, are ever alert to an opportunity, for communication to further the education of planet four. At times we travel in our ships outside our solar system.”

“The experiences we have on the earth plane merely prepare us to be able to understand most all that goes on when we reach the stage of becoming teachers. That’s why reincarnation is necessary. One that chooses not to have many lives on the earth plane is not one able to help in the capacity we fill.”

“You see, it is not so much the experience “literally” on the earth plane as it is a curiosity about many things that equips one to be able to teach, lead and direct humanity from this side. It is not whether we were “hands on” scientists or “hammer swinging” architects or “concrete mixing” bridge builders. It is our ratio of pervasiveness of all realms of experience now that we are on this side. By pervasiveness we mean our ability to “enter” the form of one on earth and experience what they are doing. For instance, we know what certain scientists are accomplishing because we saw to it that they are accomplishing it. Therefore, we know the end results before they do and can then simply pass this information on to those on the earth plane able to receive it.”

Planet Number Eight

As you move up each one of these planets, you are reflecting up an octave higher in your vibration. If you want to picture it on a guitar, perhaps, up until seven you have had the normal vibration pattern just getting faster and higher pitched each time, but when you go from seven to eight is when you go into a harmonic which is an overtone type of thing. For those who don't know music this may be hard to understand, but perhaps you could think of an overtone as more of an echo of the tone. It is so high and so refined that it has this hollow sound. From here on up, then, it is much harder to reach back because you're out in this echoing field, this dimension that is so refined. There are not that many who can do it. There are some. Planet eight has not many in it.

The eighth plane is one of separation, similar to the sixth, where you are alone, but know that others of like mind are near. You feel comfortable with that thought, knowing that you will be reunited eventually, but also knowing that this is a necessary stage of being alone to synthesize and make future plans, map out your track, so to speak. It is not a feeling of loneliness as strong as the sixth plane was; in fact, it is quite exciting in its own way. Here they, the total complete seed-core with the knowledge of all one hundred forty-four realities, synthesize and bring together (gather in or reap) all that is good and of benefit and discard the rest.

Many new ideas are forming because of your seventh plane term of service. Areas are seen and sensed that need to be improved. Old ideas are thrown off like totally changing your clothing. Nothing seems as it did just a short time ago. There are more new and exciting experiences out there. You have to search for it and you have to do it alone. Your aims, your goals, your focus is all on you, the personal you. You know, and feel secure in the knowledge that planet seven is helping others and that you are free to explore yourself with no guilty feelings of betrayal to others.

Life on the eighth planet is not very exciting, but neither is it boring. It is a stage of feeling confident in yourself, and your choices thus far. It is also a time to tie together loose ends and discard all previous ideas of happiness. What you thought would be the ultimate joy now seems quite childish, does it not? There is a supreme joy waiting up ahead and that is what the strategy must be – how to reach it. You know now what you are capable of and what you have inside you to draw on. Your self-confidence increases and you make your stay on planet eight very productive and worthwhile until you're ready to experience planet nine.

Planet Number Nine

Planets nine and ten have very few in them. On planet nine you plan the rest of the journey similar to planet six. The process of synthesizing as done on planets six, nine and eleven are simply the two blending and becoming one on planet six, the one then welcomes all incarnations and stores and discards knowledge on planet nine.

Planet Number Ten

After the human climbs past the level of nine, they still “reincarnate” but in a different form. They go through a stage of Evolvement of Light. This would be planets 10-11-12. Planets 7-8-9 below this are accomplished with the colored auras. Planets 10-11-12 are that of light in all its stages of evolvement. Yes, light evolves also the same as humans do. After this takes place you become a pure element that no longer has to incarnate in any form on the earth.

Windows on the Past

The ones on ten are not that concerned with direct “one to one” helping of those clear back on planet four. They’re more concerned with helping those just behind them. The thoughts, the ideas from planet seven are the ones that those on planet ten wish to work with. This is the experimental station and this is where these thoughts will be tested and perfected, etc.

Drawing of Planet Ten by Norma

Also, those on ten, the experimental station, are doing the planning and experimenting and forming of planets eleven and twelve and a few have moved to them as the first inhabitants, but even so, constantly revert to ten to try something different and experiment to find a better way and form to express through on eleven and twelve.

Planet Number Eleven

Planets eleven and twelve have only a couple on them, who have a long wait ahead of them, except that because of compressed time they will not be aware of this. These planets are just being formed. On planet eleven, through with any experiments they planned and carried out on planet ten, they decide if theories were good or bad.

Planet Number Twelve

They then move on to twelve where they graduate. The Oversoul's trip through the planets is the same as the seed core's trip through earth's inner planes. All schooling should follow the same pattern.

The following is from one of the first entities (David) to make it up this far:

“From ten up to eleven and twelve there are very, very few that have gone this far. Earth is a fairly new planet and as in the beginning of creation there was none from the earth plane to help any on the earth plane, so it is when you get to planet twelve. There is none from our own solar system that can help you, so your help then comes from a higher evolved solar system until you get enough to form your own help.”

“This is the stage where I am at now. I am David and am above planet twelve, and I am one of the first to make it up here. When I say first, there are probably a couple hundred of us, but I was one of the first. This is where I am, on the ethereal body of planet twelve and I will, of course, leave a record here when I progress on into the mansion worlds. I will be done soon with the total solar system. I hope that that this contact with planet earth can stay open; as I progress on into the mansion worlds I will be able to reach back giving explanations of them to those behind me.”

“We are entities living on planets, but we are also pure elements of the sun. We will progress on in this manner, as a sub-atomic particle until we reach the central core. Here we will instigate life in a totally new solar system and begin the journey again as a small part of an individual manifested form. This may seem puzzling. We begin as a small part of the make-up of a human body. We progress through all the stages of growth of the manifested earth plane, as the thinking mechanism of divine mind that reincarnates each time. Then we progress through the unmanifested levels. At some points here we are back in the Oversoul and on some levels we are separated, but always as a whole spark.”

“When we go beyond the twelfth level of the unmanifested mind dimension & planets of earth we are shattered again by the Oversoul in the next solar system. This existence does not ever take on a manifested form, but we exist as the individual piece of thought of the Creator that we were throughout all the lives on the earth plane both manifested and unmanifested. As we progress through this next solar system we will continue with our duties of helping the unmanifested teachers who are still working on the earth plane. We are as their advisors, just as we have advisors from the next solar system beyond us. It is a continuing line of reaching back to help those beneath us in the order of evolvement necessary to reach the central core. As spoken of, here we start life over again in a system that is not even formed yet out of the hot gases that will eventually solidify and form a complete solar system of its own. It is continuously more beautiful as we continue to evolve. It gets very difficult to be able to explain our existence to those so far behind us. We thank you for this rare opportunity to explain how it works.”

Chapter Twelve

eil and I were looking for a picture to frame of Nmy cat Clementine who had recently passed away. She was approximately sixteen years old and had been sick for almost a year. Something had happened to her that caused her to walk in circles. The vet said that something had affected her brain; that it could have been a stroke. They put her on steroids and she was on them for the rest of her life.

Clemmie when she was well Clemmie after she got sick

When I got up that last morning I saw that she had been curled up in a fetal position and hadn't moved all night. I called the vet knowing that I had to have her put away. They told me to come in about 45 minutes. I got ready to go and found her in another room trying to walk but so sick she couldn't. I picked her up and carried her to the living room. I sat down on the couch holding her when suddenly she stiffened up, her eyes opened wide and all four legs stuck straight out. I laid her down on some newspapers and finished putting my shoes on. When I picked her up to go I knew she was near the end, but took her to the vet's anyway. She was still alive, just barely and they gently put her to sleep.

I'm almost sure that when her eyes opened wide and she stiffened and her legs went out straight was when the spark of electricity left her body. The body lives on for a period of time after the spark leaves. Actually I had experienced the same thing when my Mother died several years earlier. Her eyes opened really wide and I know that's when the spirit left her body. Her body lived on for perhaps a half of a day.

"You know, Neil, I'm going to ask the TimeTraveler to tell us what he can about death and what we should expect when it happens," I said.

"That's a good idea," he answered. "I'd like to know more about it."

Death

When the time comes to leave the earth scene and return to your home, the spirit is the first to withdraw. It starts its process of going back into the tiny pinpoint of a black hole. This is very difficult to explain; the collapsing and the expanding and exploding of these black holes are wherein the total secret of beingness lies. The illustration of a balloon collapsing within itself is perhaps one of the easiest ways to try to explain this to humanity.

As the spirit withdraws it builds spasms that grow stronger and it explodes back into the black hole feeling the thrill in its ethereal body, not its physical body. At the birth of a child on the earth plane this is felt in the physical body. At death it is felt in the ethereal body which is what you will be in until your next term to come back out of the black hole into the physical form.

Entities who have had many painkillers in the form of drugs before death on the earth plane have more adjustments to problems on the inner planes. To begin with, they sleep much longer at birth into the inner planes because it takes time to erase the effects of the drugs from the atomic make-up of the entity. They also feel believe it or not, cheated of the beautiful experience of death. There is a feeling of bliss at the time of death as there should be at birth that is so glorious and all-consuming that there is nothing to equal it in humanity's life whatsoever. Those who have received a lot of drugs do not feel this. This feeling can be closely approximated by a woman giving birth. I really shouldn't say closely, as it does not come close, but perhaps a hint of it is present. The baby being born should also experience this feeling of bliss when bursting out of the womb, but if the mother has had anesthesia they do not, cannot, feel this. (Perhaps this is why so many enter this plane of existence bawling.) As given previously, they miss this feeling and search for it constantly the rest of their lives, using anything they can in the form of drugs or alcohol that will approximate this feeling.

Hickox – The Awesome Realm of the Soul

When this feeling is missed during the death process due to drugs, those on the other side can approximate it in a safe way – substitute a synthetic feeling – and also explain and reason with them about what happened. But this cannot be done on the earth plane to help those who miss this experience. They do not realize they missed it and in some it causes a feeling of resentment that never leaves. They never understand what causes this feeling, nor does anyone else understand it. On the other hand, if the mother is not anesthetized and the babe has this experience, it is not realized either. The child grows up to be a well-adjusted entity, with much to contribute to humanity.

There should be no fear of dying. It is really quite beautiful. The soul leaves the body quite effortlessly. The ethereal body is what leaves you when you die. It has encased your physical body all the time you are in incarnation. Therefore you look the same or better – in your prime – after you pass over. Everything is beautiful color and light. If one needs to see angels and hear harps, one will; but if one is enlightened, he will not. He will meet his teacher and after casual conversation, will get down to the business of evaluating that life and determine whether or not he did what he intended before coming in.

A couple of years ago I had a very vivid, life-like dream about my brother-in-law who had recently passed away. Actually I think it was the second dream I had about him, but the first didn't amount to much – just an acknowledgment that he was on the other side. This dream was very real.

I was talking to my brother-in-law and he looked great. He looked quite young and had dark hair and seemed to be very happy and upbeat and even excited. He was describing to me how they each get a certain number of "processes" a day. He was only allowed two a day at this time because he hadn't been there very long. It seems a "process" is, or can be, contact with those on the earth plane. I guess a "process" can also be other things. My feeling is that processes are similar to privileges. I was concerned that he was using one of his precious "processes" to communicate with me but he said no, contacting me didn't count partly because I was so open to communication and also because I had gone to that side for the communication and he didn't have to come over to our side. Therefore it didn't count as one of his "processes."

When my father passed away in the fall of 1987, I asked if anyone could tell me about him – if he was all right and aware of what has happened. I received the following information:

“Yes, we have been checking on him. He is resting, quite tired but aware of his crossing and actually relieved about it. He no longer wanted to be incarnated in a form that was incapable of participating in life. He participated fully in experiencing events all his life and is willing now to leave it behind and move forward to renewed healing and spiritual awareness.”

“He is aware presently of your inquiry and tells you not to worry or mourn his passing as he truly wanted it. He says to tell you that you are on the right track and to continue your work and to tell your brother that if he wants to sell the business and retire to another part of the country to go ahead and do so. He does not have to pursue the business as a memorial to his father.”

Hickox – The Awesome Realm of the Soul

“He also is in contact with his mother and his brothers, one who recently crossed over and one who crossed over as a child whom he never knew well. The one who crossed recently will be reincarnating soon, but your father has not had the necessary healing time and feels he will want to rest for a longer time period than his brother has done. His brother will reenter the same family once more as his own great-grandson, shortly. Your father’s father has long since reentered and is unavailable for contact.”

“All in all your father is well looked after. He has not faced the self-examination of the incarnation as yet. It is too soon. They are allowed as much rest as necessary. They themselves dictate when this examination will take place by starting the process of reviewing and remembering. At this point is when he will receive personalized help from those in charge of his clearing. This is a form of setting aside or sorting out the pluses and minuses of the incarnation. There will be regrets that fall on the minus side and delights that go to the plus side. When all is said and done he will heal much faster and start the education process which will lead to the next incarnation.”

“He is sleeping now after having roamed and visited since his crossing, checking in on those he knew in this “new” way that he was curious about, using that instant ability to travel at will. He said he liked that part. He will most likely sleep for a period of six weeks in your time span and then awake and probably make the visits again with more strength and then the other process will start, that of remembrances which will incur the pluses or minuses from within his own conscience. He will not be judged by anyone other than himself. He will have counseling to help him in the process, similar to self-realization counseling done on your plane. But he is at peace and sleeping. So be it.”

Princess Diana

Another experience I would like to tell you about is when I went out to visit my son Neil in California over Labor Day weekend 1997. He and I were watching a program on TV (I think it was Entertainment Tonight) where they were talking about Princess Diana and Dodi Fayed. A message began running across the bottom of the screen that Dodi had been killed and Princess Diana injured in an automobile accident. Then they interrupted the program and gave what details they had. As far as they knew Princess Diana had a head injury – a fractured skull or something.

Neil then turned to a different channel to watch one of his shows for an hour and I went to his computer in the bedroom and tried to work. I found myself getting very light-headed and unable to concentrate and finally getting sick in my stomach. It seemed everything in my head was all jumbled up. I almost quit and went out to lay down on the couch (all I seemed to want to do was lay down) but I didn't want to scare or worry Neil because my mother had just died from a stroke in April of that year.

When his program was over he joined me at the computer and after a little bit he turned the TV in the bedroom on to get the news. Just as he turned it on they announced that Princess Diana was dead at the age of 36. It was then that I realized that what I had been feeling was a result of what was going on with Princess Diana at the very time they would have been trying to save her and ultimately failing to do so. I didn't know why I was affected in this manner but later I did receive some insight into this.

The reason I felt such a drain of energy at the time of the accident and that a friend of mine had a dream about holding Diana's hand is because we both are very active in the field of new entries to the inner planes. Both of us were called in to help with Diana due to the trauma of the event. The way in which I helped was in explaining how the inner planes worked and what she would be capable of accomplishing from there and pretty much giving her a guided tour as to life on the side. (This information actually came from the aspect of me who helped her.)

I do know that she was pretty much a very happy person as far as her future with Dodi. She was not supposed to leave the planet at this time, but when she realized that Dodi had crossed over she wanted to be with him and insisted that she did not want to return to physical life. This was contrary to her original plans for the incarnation and many advisors were called in.

Because of the high standing of her soul she was given a look at the future and allowed to make the decision with the help of her advisors on that side. She had just received the ring, she had just been talked to about being an ambassador and she had her dear sons who were still very young. She had to weigh all this against the fact that Dodi was gone, that the role of ambassador would not work out in the end and that her sons were very much able to do that which would be required of them without her. She was finally given permission to stay on the inner planes and guide events from there.

Windows on the Past

While the decision was being made, both my friend and I and many other who serve in this capacity were helping Diana with her grief at the unexpected turn of events. She was quite torn as to leaving her sons and staying on the inner planes. She finally decided she could still guide her sons from the inner planes and pursue her goals, perhaps even better from that side.

She is touched by the outpouring of grief of the people, but had also seen that this would happen and realized that it would further her goals of eliminating the monarchy from England. She is still resting and making plans for the future and at the present is not in touch with anyone on the earth plane. This is a stage that all newly crossed over entities must go through – an evaluation process of the life. In a short while she will make her farewell visits to those on the earth and there will be numerous sightings of her and contact with her that come to light. These sightings and contacts really happen after people leave, if they so desire. Most people do so desire and I'm sure Diana will also. After these farewells she will become intensely involved in cross plane communication and impression so she can continue her guidance of events in the lives of her boys. She is still in a bit of turmoil but is adjusting quite nicely.

Food for Thought

Actually I kind of get the shivers when I think about what is happening with Diana. You know, I was told awhile back that the Christ was on the earth plane in England, but wasn't ready to let his presence be known yet. In that article the higher beings said that a "high spirit had entered that body." They've also said that about every 500 years the Christ will be present on the earth in the form of a new “teacher.” Perhaps He was here under our noses all this time and we didn’t know it. They had also said that it would be the person that would seem the least likely to be the Christ. I’ve heard that people are already saying “she died for our sins,” meaning the fact that we buy the papers that published the photos that the paparazzi were paid big money to take.

More Food for Thought

I’ve also heard her referred to as the New Age Princess – taking advantage of many new age products and rituals, such as using an astrologer. She certainly went through her period of anguish – possibly this was the opening up of the channel. Could the disease bulimia be a manifestation of the opening of the channel in some people? Who knows? Anything is possible.

She came through on the other side as a very loving, compassionate person doing much good for the poor, the weak, the sick and the downtrodden. Isn’t this what Jesus did? She just went about it in a different way, a way more in harmony with the times she was living in. No one could carry out the mission in the manner He did due to the changed world we are in now. At the very least, Diana was a forerunner of His reappearance.

Son’s Letter to his Mother after Crossing Over

A friend of mine, another channel, was grieving over the death of her son – a young man. They let him communicate with her through me. The following letter from her son and advice from her guides came through for the mother. (The names of the mother and son have been changed to protect their identity.)

Windows on the Past

“Dear Mom,

As my mother, there was no one else like you ever. You were the best mom any guy could ever have. I really want you to stop crying. You know I never could stand to hear you cry. They are letting me come through this way as a personal favor because Mrs. Hickox is not to be used for this purpose, but they have made an exception.”

“Remember the time, Mom, when I wanted a dog and you wouldn’t let me have one because you said I wouldn’t take care of it. You were right, but at the time I really was mad at you. You were always right about everything. Now I know why. You have this inside track to God that not too many people have.”

“Do you know how lucky you are to be able to talk to those big guys that way? This is why they are letting me talk to you. If you keep on crying they will not be able to get through as you are muddying up the air waves.”

“Don’t grieve for me anymore. I really and truly am much happier now. I’m studying hard on this side to learn how to help people grow food better in the days to come. I will be working in this area and at times can give you some ideas perhaps, but will not be with you at all times as I am now. I must leave and “go away to technical school” as they call it here. Real schooling will come after awhile they tell me. It seems I’m not quite ready for the “college” classes. You see we get to pick an area that interested us on the earth and take our time and learn as much as we want. We visit experimental places on the earth and really have a lot more opportunities for growth and learning here than we did there. We also have many friends. Some are even relatives. Do you remember a guy named Sam? He says he used to know you while he was on earth. Not real close friends or anything like that, but knew you. He and I have been getting along quite well, talking over the scene where I lived while on earth.”

“Now really Mom they tell me I have to quit. I love you very much and long to be with you but these dudes have made me realize that I was not to spend too long down there this time around. I will be with you again and for both of us, the time will pass quickly. You will get the other kids you know. Where’s your faith Mom? You always told me to walk with my antennae pointing up. Good-by for now, love Johnny.”

When I went back to correct the spelling there seemed to be more that wanted to come through from her guides:

“Martha, you simply must pull your emotional body together. We suggest a long walk each evening reflecting on all the moments you can remember with Johnny. This may seem like it would be the wrong thing to do to help you get through this, but there is a reason for it. When you start remembering his life and all the incidents that stand out in your mind about him, you will find a pattern or thread to all the memories closest to the surface. This pattern or thread or common subject matter will finally begin to pull together into showing the purpose of that incarnation for him. This purpose was singular, and once it was accomplished he had determined to leave. He had made this decision before entering. As a matter of fact he had not especially wanted to enter this time but was advised that it would be wise to enter, accomplish this one goal, and then exit.”

“This is according to plan. You have been with him many times in the past and were chosen for this incarnation for this reason. Also you could not be told that it would be a short stay, or it would have defeated the purpose of his incarnation. We cannot give any more than this now without running the risk still of defeating the purpose. The answer lies in past lives, not the present. Know that it is cleared up now and will not have to be undertaken in the future. Some achievements take a much greater toll on humanity than others and what you have been through is just possibly the hardest, even much harder than losing a spouse, as a spouse is not part of your own flesh and blood. Losing a child is one of the, nay is the most difficult separation to handle. We feel that your anger and disbelief and non-acceptance are normal reactions. Understanding is the key to overcoming. Hence we want you to focus on his life and especially the times spent directly with you. Therein lies the understanding which will overcome the grief. Bless you my dear child in your agony.”

Rest and Review

One will be allowed to rest and relax for a period of time depending on his need for this. This is based on the age and physical condition of the body at crossing. The ethereal body can carry scars from one lifetime to another if they are bad scars. Compare it to a heavy electrical wire. The outer wrapping can be used over again on new inner wires and if there is a bad nick in the outer coat, it will still be there if new inner wires are run through it, but it doesn't hurt the passage of energy.

When rested and healed, one will be allowed to visit any relatives or friends he can contact – any on his particular level. Then his teachers and guides take him to the station of evaluation, where they review that incarnation and decide what line of study should be pursued. He will be advised and guided in this decision by his teacher, who will explain the benefits of all choices and help him lay out a plan of action.

I asked just recently about a young man, thirty-nine years old, who had suffered from cancer for almost ten years and had recently passed over. The following is what came through:

This is in response to a question about this young man from his mother-in-law. She would like to know how he is and what his circumstances are now and if he has any message for his family.

Yes, we are here. We are his guides. He is still recuperating from the long siege of illness he went through. This is something that most people don't realize is that the longer you are ill and suffering on the earth plane the longer it takes for you to recuperate over here. It is not an instant healing on this side. The soul has to heal and cleanse itself of the negative emotions it went through while suffering illness and pain for so many years.

But he is coming along nicely and will be able to take up his life on this side within a few more months. For the present he is doing well and is responding to therapy of the soul for healing. He wants his family to know that it is not that much different on this side as it is there. He does not have any physical pain, of course, but the mental strain of those years was terrific and he is having a little trouble shaking off some resentment he has as to why he couldn't stay and see his children grow up. But he is accepting the fact now that he can still be in touch with them through dreams at night and can help guide their life's decisions in this manner. He also wants to thank all those who helped him and his family in their time of need and who are still helping his loved ones.

Windows on the Past

They do not celebrate the Christmas season on this side – it is the "Christmas Season" all the time over here. He did briefly visit the Thanksgiving get-together but it only served to set him back in his thinking and resentment so he will not be allowed to visit any more doings of this sort for a while longer. Perhaps six months from now his guides will allow him some direct contact with any he can reach. But know this – he is doing as well as anyone could after what he had been through.

Take someone who is killed in an auto accident and your will find that they will not have as long a recuperation period on this side. They will go directly into examining the life they left and start immediately planning their next one. This is the way it works. One who is killed in an accident will only have a few short weeks of getting over the shock and fear that the accident caused and they will be on their way to recovery and looking forward to planning a new try at life on the earth plane much sooner than someone like this young man will.

We suggest that his family know that he is okay and healing and is glad she asked about him and to wait about six months before inquiring again.

Much peace to her and all his family in the coming New Year. His guides.

A follow-up question was asked about the young man several months later. The following came through:

Answer: Yes, it's been a long time since we've communicated.

He is doing much better now. He has times when he is almost happy. He is at peace with what happened. He does have moments when he feels bad when thinking of his family, but is eagerly looking forward to starting new projects. One is a project that he and his wife had talked about several times. She will know what this is and he wants her to know that he will do what he can to help with the project on his side of the veil if she decides to move forward with it. It has to do with children in his wife's home country that are homeless. It concerns starting an organization to help these children. He is very interested.

He is also pleased at how his oldest son has matured and also about his youngest son who is doing much better now that the shock of losing his beloved father has lessened. The twin girls are growing into fine young ladies and he is proud of them also.

He says the whole family could get involved with this project and he will anchor it on the other side with all the help he can muster. This would give their lives direction and also his.

He says hello to mother and father-in-law and also his sister-in-law and wishes her Godspeed with her new baby.

He wants people to not mourn his passing anymore. When they do, he feels their pain and this drags him down. He has tried so valiantly to overcome his sickness and death and needs all those he cares about to be upbeat for him. He loves them all, especially his mother and siblings.

Norma will most likely not be allowed to communicate with me for much longer. This is for her own good and also mine. She has been very willing to do this, but her guides say she cannot keep it up.

Cheers to everyone for this Easter season and thanks to my sister-in-law for asking about me. Her new son is a joy. Hi to her husband, daughter and dog.

Preparatory Schools for Earth Plane Incarnation

As each entity reviews his progress from the previous incarnation, he is given enough time to analyze where he went wrong, what attitude attracted him again, etc. Then he is sent to school in the Halls of Wisdom and those particular attitudes are worked on until such time as the entity feels he is strong enough to be tested again in that particular area. But say he had several different attitudes to overcome. The schooling would take much longer. It is rare that an entity would be allowed to reincarnate just to work on one specific area unless it was really a strong attraction he was fighting. This does happen, but it is quite rare. The schooling could take a long time, judging by earth time, let's say eighty or one hundred years, or as little as one or two. This is also quite rare and is usually a failure – a wasted opportunity. It usually happens only when the previous incarnation had to be aborted due to unforeseen events. If this happens, the entity would be allowed to reenter as soon as a proper vehicle was found.

We'll say, for example, an individual finds that he needs to have lots of work in the area of prejudice, jealousy and controlling his anger. The teachers are dubious that he is ready to handle all three of these areas in one incarnation as this is a rough assignment for anyone to take on. He feels so strongly that he can lick them all, that they decide to let him have a go at it. Then much research has to be done to find exactly the situation that could combine all three areas to be worked on. This could take quite a while, but usually not too long.

The following came through when I asked about a friend's grandmother who had died some time earlier:

“She has moved on to the preparatory schools for earth plane incarnation. She will be involved in a lengthy process of education on this side of the veil to prepare her for her next incarnation. At the present time she is studying new teaching concepts for children as this is what she has determined she would like to set as a goal for her next life. In this past life she saw so many children that were totally “left behind” in the education process that she determined to come up with ways that would help all children. This is just a small part of her present studies. She is involved in all aspects of civil rights as they relate to prejudice because she was guilty of prejudice towards certain races in the past life.”

“We are not contacting her directly because this would only interfere with her progress onward. She has gone through the period of mourning for those she left behind and is now healed. If we bring her a message now from a beloved grandchild it would only set her progress back. She has accepted the separation and is eagerly preparing for the future. We suggest the grandchild left behind do the same. We are reading her records and progress report to bring you this information. Rest assured that she is well and actually quite happy. She never had enough time to pursue some of her many interests while on the earth plane. Now she has that time and is taking that time. She has not set any date for reentry. She wants to be sure that she is ready and can make much progress spiritually next time.”

This is the way it works. When your half of the divine spark is in the cycle of suspended animation on the inner planes, it has its computers running and is storing knowledge gained, lessons failed, and so forth, for the last life. It then correlates them with the seedcore's record. Then, when awakened out of the rest period, the spark has a good idea of where he failed, and of what he needs to work on. He begins his studies on the inner planes and at the same time begins forming plans for his next class on the earth plane. This work continues until the teachers decide that it is time to re-enter the classroom.

Ready to go back to School

When one has convinced the teachers that he's ready to go back to school (reincarnate), he has an assignment sheet drawn up as to what areas he wants to work on, similar to what chapter in a school book they want to study and then be tested on. He then takes his assignment sheet and, similar to entering or registering for college, he and his advisor go to the computer room and enter in the requirements needed for the lessons to be studied, such as nationality, race, sex, and many other factors. The sex you were in your most recent incarnation is the one you remain until you reincarnate again. Then you decide what sex you think would give you more opportunity for growth in the next incarnation.

The computer then comes up with about six choices, giving the time expected for birth, location of birth, etc. This is narrowed to three and the other three are returned to the computer bank. Then a panel of seven judges takes the remaining three prospects and interviews the student and his advisors. The panel of judges chooses the one set of parents or one mother who will best be able to give the student the necessary background for his efforts. When the seven judges and three advisors are in complete agreement, the student is then told of the decision.

The student had a say in everything except the choice of the one out of the final three. In other words, he had the choice of race, sex, location, time of birth, etc., but the final choice was not his. He is then introduced to the prospective parents and stays close and gets to know them. If at any time during the process he begins to have doubts as to the wisdom of the choice, he can ask for a review of the facts; but if the judges still feel it was the right decision, he must stay with that choice or give up his chance to enter school (earth) at that time. If the student can show a just cause for his doubt as to the wisdom of the choice, the judges will change the appointment; but the reason must be valid and very important for a change to be made. One reason the judges would change would be because of a damaged baby. Unless the student really wants to take on the difficult lesson this would present, he will be allowed to change as long as a suitable vessel is available.

Choosing our own Forms

The form that each finds himself encased in on the earth plane is one which the entity himself chose before entry. If one does not like something about oneself, there is no one to blame it on. It is your total responsibility. No genes were to blame. If it is something that is due to heredity, you chose this circumstance with your eyes wide open. One must be able to accept this responsibility and ask themselves why they chose as they did. Was it to set up certain conditions to overcome and by overcoming, gain a lesson that would permit them to take a step up the evolutionary ladder? Probably so, and therefore the more sympathy given a crippled child, the more harm you are doing him, and this is harm to his eternal soul that we are talking about. He must be made to understand that he chose a “special” body to be able to accomplish a “special” task. This is the attitude that must stay uppermost in his mind; he must try to ascertain what that task was. If hardships are overcome and the task completed, this is a giant step forward up the ladder for that entity. He should be encouraged and fortified with education and support, but never pampered and babied. Gentle, firm, disciplined support, and gentle urging, is what is needed.

Most people never apply any circumstances of their lives to a bigger picture than just that of the physical, material world they live in day by day. Therefore, most of these well-planned and set-up lifetimes in a handicapped body are a big waste. This will not be allowed in future incarnations. There will be a test given, and if one cannot pass this simple test, one will not be allowed a chance at a “special” (handicapped) body to speed up their progress. This is part of the “tightening up of the rules” process that is taking place!

Choosing a New Personality

Choosing what sort of personality one will have is also part of the master plan for each incarnation. After all, one could choose all other circumstances very carefully to set up the needed experiences and if the personality were left to chance, it could ruin everything. You see, certain lessons would be so easy for one type of personality and terribly difficult for another.

The signs of the zodiac are laid out on a wheel with personality traits pertinent to each sign. The choices in the birthing center are, as spoken of previously, narrowed to three. The expected time of birth is looked up on the zodiac charts and these personality traits are taken into consideration when making the final choice. It is chosen with respect to the lessons to be worked on and has a definite bearing on the final choice. After the final choice has been made, the personality ray is chosen. The soul ray is kept throughout each lifetime.

The basis of astrology is thrown off somewhat by the uneven days in the months. This breakdown of months is not mathematically correct, as all things in the universe should be. Each zodiac sign is determined by the placement of the star at any given point in rotation of earth. The different movement of the stars focuses a different energy on the earth at that particular time. Energy from one planet can be forceful and energy from another may have a calmer effect. It really is an important aspect in the birthing computer room. If the delivery of a baby on earth is speeded up, it can really throw a monkey wrench into the planning that went into that incarnation. Do you see how this could happen? It does have a bearing if it throws the incarnating one under a different influence than was planned. In some instances it makes no difference. It depends on the time of the month. The energy coming in from other stars is determined by that star's plane in evolution. Remember, they have evolved back to pure energy and are the influencing factor on the zodiac signs.

Choosing our Intelligence Level

The intelligence level is chosen along with all the other factors. This would be included in the choosing of the musical keytone, as the possibilities of the mental body tone are an automatic result of the keytone chosen, as also are the possibilities for the perfection of the physical body. The three tones given in the Personal Music Charts (to be explained in a future volume) are the Keytone and the inner and outer aspects. These all have to do with the physical body; they are the emotional, mental and physical makeup of the physical body, or the first three dimensions - the lower left section of the brain. The other tones, the emotional and mental body tones, are an automatic process, found in the theory of music, for the possible growth, illumination and perfection of the emotional and mental bodies. Therefore, when the keytone for the physical body is chosen, the mental is an automatic harmony.

Windows on the Past

The intelligence of all entities is determined by the soul tone they came in on at original creation. This soul tone also has a predetermined mental level of activity which is an octave higher than that of the physical body's mental tone because the soul tone is an octave higher than the physical body tone. The other tones are also an octave higher than those used on earth. As one continues to climb spiritually, the intelligence level raises with them. When the vibratory rate of a soul makes the expansion at the seedcore level, then so also does the intelligence level change as it becomes a combined intelligence at that point. The first stage of combining with the twin is what was just described as being an octave higher. The seedcore level not only goes an octave higher but also is expanded intelligence. This happens again at the undersoul level and, of course, when all rejoin the Oversoul the intelligence is that of the Creator God, of which there can be no intelligence higher. The levels of raising the intelligence are also tempered with wisdom as they evolve, so intelligence is no longer the determining factor; the wisdom to use the intelligence is.

I would like to further define soul growth on the keyboard of souls as opposed to the personality growth on the keyboard for personality. The keyboard charting soul growth is actually not the next keyboard above that of the entity in embodiment. There is a keyboard of individual seedcore activity that is between them.

Individual Keyboard Charts

Because the seedcore itself acts as a distribution point or a “roundhouse” or gathering point for synthesization of materials gained from individual personalities, this chart could also be considered a past personality chart. These are personalities formed by the halves of the spark. This personality part of the chart can be compared to the report card at the first quarter. The chart of all activity of the seedcore shows the growth for the individual half of the soul. This total seedcore chart would be comparable to the report card at the end of the first semester. Movement on this seedcore chart takes place every two or three centuries.

The seedcore chart could compare to numerology. It deals with how many personalities each half of the soul has had, whether they have been as male or female. It records the good deeds and the bad deeds. This is the keyboard chart directly above the individual’s personality chart. This seedcore is a clearing house that discards unwanted material from individual past lives of each half of the soul, and charts the good lessons and growth that took place in each half of the soul’s personalities. The seedcore is the planning department that actually plans the next personality spin off that will be done by each half of the soul. The seedcore is the motor center or perhaps nerve center for the whole soul, you might say

Whole Soul Keyboard Charts

The next higher keyboard, then, is charting the average of the two halves of the soul. This keyboard would be comparable to the report card at the end of the year. The whole soul (not spark) makes a move on this keyboard every 2500 years or so, or should, if keeping up with the expected progress. These are part of the cycles of the solar system.

Each and every individual soul is part of the whole and, as such, has a time schedule to keep as far as growth so he keeps up with the cycles of the heavenly bodies. Part of his growth is tied into the movement of the heavenly bodies. He is an esoteric aspect, or part, of a thought-form which forms certain galaxies or constellations or is part of new stars forming, or perhaps is slated to be part of a new planet. This is the growth in movement that the soul's keyboard chart is tracking. Astronomy charts, or planetary charts or any reference to planets are talking about the whole soul's progress. This is the basis for astrology and a lot of misinterpretation has entered this field, but for the sake of understanding, you could compare the chart of soul's progress to astrology.

The individual personality chart of each one on the earth plane is expected to start from C and review up to the point of entry and beyond. For some this review may take the whole lifetime and they never start on the new course of study. For others the review lasts not much longer than the forming of the personality and they get a very quick start on the new lesson plan, the new class in the school. Each one is different. Some plan to finish the review in a hurry and start on new lessons, but get caught up in the material world once they get there and never finish the review, as said.

Each one of these lives is planned to cover one of the twelve degrees of pitch between each chromatic tone on an octave keyboard. These are the Personal Music Charts. What this means is that in each life they will progress through twelve levels of C, twelve levels of C# twelve levels of D, etc. By the end of the incarnation they should have been through all the experiences on all twelve degrees of pitch of each of the twelve chromatic tones.

The keyboard of the seedcore will then average out the growth of this lifetime along with the average of the other past lives of both halves of the soul. This will cause a movement of undetermined length. It may achieve a growth of perhaps three levels of one chromatic for the whole soul. In other words the incarnation may begin at tone F the third degree and may only accomplish enough good to raise the seedcore chart to tone F, degree seven. The keyboard of the soul, the next one up, cannot make the move to the tone of F# until another personality has been planned and incarnates. This can be done by either half of the soul, either the half that just returned or the half waiting on the inner planes during the last incarnation.

If this next lifetime gives enough good growth to allow the seedcore chart to climb from the tone of F, level seven to the tone of F, level twelve or further, the keyboard chart of the soul will be able to make a move of one chromatic step. This does not need to be from F to F#; of course, it could be from D# to E or from G to G#. In other words, the seedcore chart is at a different tone.

Windows on the Past

It is keeping an average figure for the two halves. It is even conceivable that it could regress, go backwards in any one lifetime if a really bad personality is spun off.

This does happen at times. It could be considered the same as an explosive combination of genes coming together in the physical evolution. The seedcore can come up with a mixture of concepts, or truths, along with a certain set of lessons to achieve a certain goal by determining to mold a certain type of personality by choosing birth times, places and parents that don't all blend in harmony and produce the beautiful personality that was pictured. This does happen, not very often, but it does happen. This usually causes a backwards slide on the keyboard. Say, for instance, from the tone F, degree three they may slip back to the tone of E the tenth level.

This does not change the keyboard of the soul from whatever position he is resting on. He pays no heed to the ups and downs of the seedcore keyboard until a climb out of any chromatic tone's twelve degrees. Then, and only then, will the chart of the soul move forward one chromatic step.

You can use all experiences to evolve and everyone does. One can use the very nature of survival for spiritual growth similar to isometric exercises. As you evolve you're still up against challenge, whether it's to find food or a job. Both can be used equally for progressive spiritual growth. Many, many people have evolved into saints in India from being poor or beggars. This did not hinder their spiritual growth. But at a certain stage on the path, certain experiences do not allow enough challenges for further growth.

Those we are talking about as rising from poor beggars to saints came in as saints, choosing this way to be as an example to others of how to attain sainthood. It was part of their lessons to do this to prove whether or not it would work to give humanity an example such as this to follow, to get them over their material focus. For the most part, the experiments did not work. Those saints had to go back to their seedcore and report that the idea did not work favorably for most of humanity. They may have affected a small percentage of the people, but they needed to redesign the idea.

Jesus was one who chose a redesigned concept on the same theme. He had more of a chance of success, but his mission has been tampered with and contaminated by too many other earth plane thoughts. As far as comparing evolutionary gains to isometric exercises, isometric exercises soon become merely a holding pattern for the person doing them and do not achieve creative breakthroughs into new abilities. The same would be true of a person who chooses to come back each time into a country such as India and sit on the street begging. He would be in a holding pattern and would not be achieving any breakthroughs as far as future evolutionary progress goes.

In Conclusion

On planet two, when the air formed into groups is the exact time that future teaching conglomerates were formed. These groups were the seedcores who started arguing and fighting on planet three, then were shattered on four, brought together on five, shattered into whole sparks on six, and then they all rejoin into the seedcore on seven. On planet eight they shed excess baggage, the unimportant deeds of each one of them, keeping only the good and helpful. The process on planet nine is that of each seedcore then being alone and planning experiments in conjunction with other seedcores on the experimental planet of ten, Then eleven is a process again of discarding the experiments that didn't work and twelve will be rejoining the Oversoul for healing before moving out.

The separate thoughts of planet one joined on planet two; grew angry and fought on three; split apart on four, first into whole sparks, then even further into half sparks; then into whole sparks again on planet five back into the main body of the Oversoul; then apart as whole sparks on six; whole spark with other parts of the seedcore on seven; whole seedcore in the Oversoul on eight; separate seedcore on planet nine; seedcore with other seedcores on ten; separate seedcores on eleven; and seedcores all joined with the Oversoul on planet twelve. It is a well laid out plan.

The individual thoughts on planet one that joined on planet two are what laid the pattern for the different incarnations that each seedcore would eventually experience. They are your probable realities. The seedcore spins off individual pieces of its energy that stays in each spark that then experiences one hundred and forty-four different tries. Each of the possible realities does this but they are and will be all you. Your teaching conglomerate is you. Way back somewhere in the long ago process of tiny little thoughts grouping together, you were one of those tiny little thoughts, an individual thought with one main question in your mind that you wanted to experience and prove or disprove. You finally have your chance. Are you going to take advantage of it or waste your opportunity? The whole process is exactly the same as what the Oversoul goes through on a larger size scale. Remember the repeated pattern of the universe.

The new pass of the Oversoul has advance sparks preceding it. It has not left Michael yet, only a few sparks have. Each new pass of the Oversoul is wiser because of that part that returned to Michael each time, even though the main body of the Oversoul moved out of this solar system. This seedcore could have many parts of himself expressing on the earth plane at one time, but all will collect and pool their knowledge and progress on as the seedcore.

A seedcore is a group of sparks that have stayed together since rejoining at planet five. These seedcores are at all stages until they collect back in and move out of this solar system as one Oversoul. The seedcore's records are under one certain name and this is how the Oversoul moves on is as this name. The seedcore can, as individual sparks, be different names for different lives, or can always be the same. There are many lives on earth at one time for each seedcore; they are all there at once (as far as those in the higher planes go), even though they are not for us on the earth plane. This is due to there being no time in the upper planes. As all is a repeated pattern, this path of progress is not only followed through by the Oversoul on all the other planets, but is followed by each individual soul in each individual life on the earth plane.

Our Oversoul, Michael, is a young, inexperienced Oversoul in the overall scheme of things, but He is certainly learning and progressing at a great rate of speed due to the way He organized the learning and growing and evolutionary processes on His planets; in other words, the way He set up the educational system for His children.

In The Awesome Realm of the Soul, we learn why reincarnation is the only logical way to structure the universe. We also learn how the different incarnations are planned and what the requirements are to achieve eternal life.
