Introduction

“Online dating is the microwave version of relationships and I’m the underdone burrito with an icy center that nobody wants.”

Shani Silver, Guest Writer for the HuffPost,
February 18, 2018

Is this you?

There are many people looking for a partner using online dating sites. You are not alone!

This book can serve as a guide, using my experiences to make your love life more successful.

Online dating works for many, but it takes perseverance, patience, a very positive attitude, and a little bit of luck. However, your personal interests should continue being developed and enjoyed, keeping you motivated and loving life.

Many people have met their partners online and are happily spending their lives together—good friends of mine, my daughter, friends of friends, parents of friends, and so on.

Once you finish this read, you will probably make changes to your pictures, profiles, and/or reread your messages for tone and word choices, so you have a better chance of finding your partner. This book will help you create an effective profile and photos to attract the kind of mate you are looking for. You will laugh, cry, and ultimately feel wiser after reading about the author’s real experiences and lessons she learned.

Shades of Online Dating

You will learn there are people who aren't who they pretend to be and people who take advantage of your vulnerability. This book will help you spot that kind of imposter and help prevent you from being victimized.

Knowledge is power! This book should enhance your online dating journey. It should help you determine your likes and dislikes to help in your search. With the methods detailed in this book, you can create a basis for highlighting yourself as a person worthy of the kind of partner you desire and deserve. You have choices and should never be made to feel like you don't.

This is a must-have guide for people over 50 who are interested in online dating. It's written from a woman's perspective using real-life experiences, lessons learned, and humor to help you navigate the world of cyber dating. You will learn how to write an effective profile, post impressive pictures, detect scams, and much more.
