“This is excellent material. I taught kindergartners for over six years, and I wish this book had been available during that time. We need to start teaching the Bible at an early age, and this will be a great tool.”

- Jean Haynes

“Thought provoking. A story for children of all ages.”

- Aimee Speers

“I thank God for people who heed the calling of God upon their life, and Tracy Sams is doing just that. I have known Tracy for many years. God has truly gifted her with a heart for children and passion to see them know Him. I know you will be blessed by her work...and your children will be too!”

- Pastor Todd Houston

Precious Gift

Do you believe that God can speak to you in different ways? As a ruddy and inquisitive boy, I grew up on a farm in east Tennessee and loved animals. My parents were always telling me to stop, look, and listen for the Lord. They often told me about God's love and the longing he had for his people to hear his voice. For you see, God desires to speak to us. So, I often stopped, looked, and listened, until one day something wonderful happened to me.

“Anthony... Anthony! It’s time to get up.”

“Mom, just give me a few more minutes.”

“Anthony, your father is waiting for you downstairs.”

The sun was rising, and Anthony could hear the sheep and other farm animals stirring. He reluctantly brushed his teeth and washed his face, ran a comb through his hair, and got dressed.

“Anthony, let’s go, son. We have a lot of chores to do today.”

“I’m coming, Dad!”

“Don’t forget breakfast!” Anthony’s mom shouted.

Anthony looked across the room and, on his dresser, stood a tall glass of milk and a plate of Pop-Tarts. He quickly gulped the glass of milk and grabbed one of the Pop-Tarts and hurried downstairs.
