Erase una vez, una comunidad de peces que vivían en los corales. La comunidad estaba escondida entre las algas en una parte bellísima del océano llena de plantas coloridas y lleno de peces de muchos tamaños y colores diferentes. Aunque la comunidad era segura, de vez en cuando había tiburones que atacaban. Por esta razón, la comunidad practicaba escondiéndose en caso de que un tiburón se apareciera. Pablo era el pez más joven de todos. El iba a una escuela que se llamaba Academia Algas. Pablo tenía escamas azules y una cola azul. Su mejor amiga se llamaba Lucía. Lucía era mucho más grande que Pablo y por esta razón, muchas veces le hacían burla por su tamaño. Lucía tenía escamas moradas y amaba jugar fútbol.

Once upon a time, there was a community of many fish who lived under the coral. The community was hidden between the seaweed in a beautiful part of the ocean full of colorful plants and fish of varying sizes and colors.

The community was safe, but every now and then, there would be a shark attack. For such reasons, the community would practice drills to be prepared for a shark attack.

Pablo was the youngest of the fish in his school. He went to a school named Seaweed Academy. Pablo had blue scales and a long flowy blue tail. His best friend's name was Lucia, and she was much larger than Pablo. Despite their friendship, Lucia would always make fun of Pablo for his size.

Pablo, a devious and mischievous fish, continuously tells his peers there is a shark near his school. He is faced with many consequences and learns the important lessons of trust and honesty.
