Prophet William S. Crowdy

Preface

I give thanks and praise to God for the privilege of preparing and presenting this work. I also am thankful for the inspiration I received from St. Gertrude Hudson's composition, "Always Remember God's Prophet, William S. Crowdy." As a fourth generation member of Church of God and Saints of Christ, Temple Beth El, Suffolk, VA, International Headquarters, I acknowledge and thank God for my relatives who are responsible for me being a member of this religious community. I assure you that my affection for my faith community does not imply a lack of respect or appreciation for other faith communities. I genuinely believe that the reality that some call God does not have a religion any more than a gender or a race. Our various religious traditions merely represent our human attempt to know, understand and be in relationship with that which we believe to be and to care about our earthly existence. I also acknowledge and give thanks for many of the teachers and professors that I have benefited from over the years, including the Religious Educator Elder Franklin H. Benson. I am especially thankful to Nicole Morgan-Clark for reading drafts of this work and providing invaluable professional feedback. Finally, the information contained in this publication reflects my personal views and not the official position of Church of God and Saints of Christ, Temple Beth El, Suffolk, VA, International Headquarters.
