CHAPTER 4

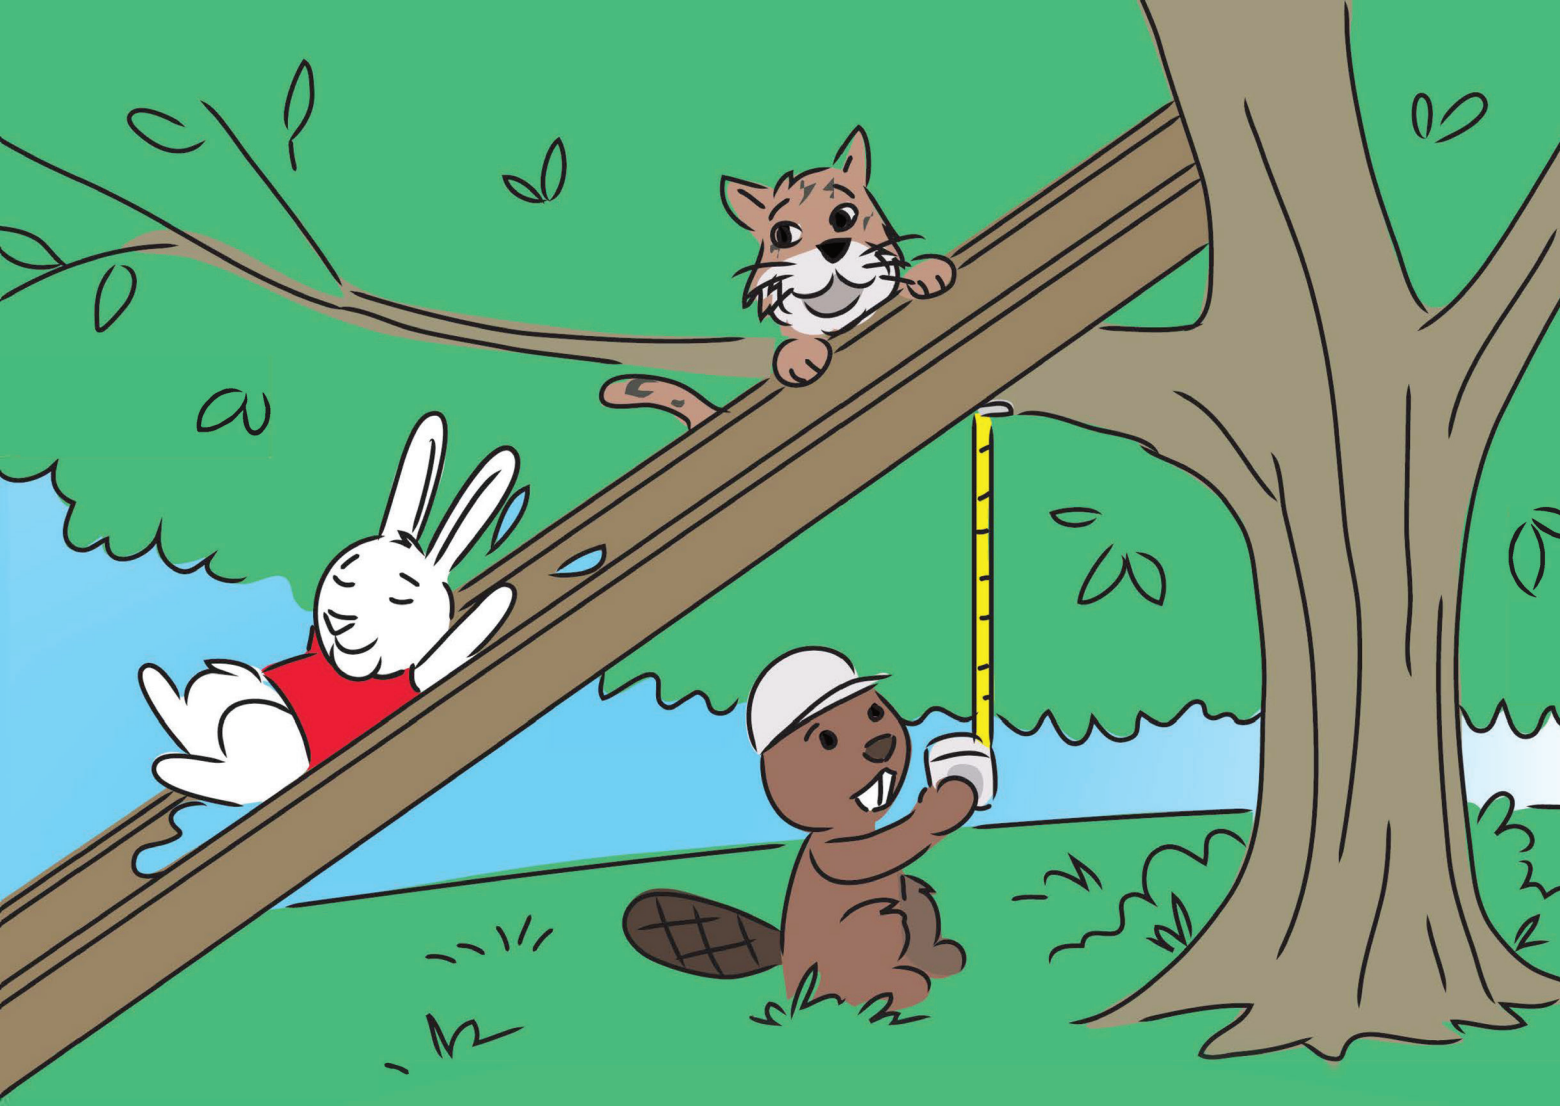

Teamwork

Toward the end of the summer, Sammy and his friends took another adventure to a river that was in the middle of the woods.

Sammy once again woke up early so that he could do his chores, like making his bed and brushing his snapper teeth. His Mom always worried about Sammy taking time to each day to eat a good lunch, so she packed him his favorite foods consisting of "BUGS AND WORMS."

Sammy, Sophia, Noah, Josh and their new friend Bobby met outside Sammy's house and they headed off together on their new adventure.

Once they arrived at the river, they decided to build a slide.

Josh the fox thought they could use Noah the beaver's sharp teeth to cut a large tree down.

Then, they cut the tree in half and hollowed out the middle to look like a slide.

Sophia the bunny rabbit had the idea to use Sammy's strength to pull the slide up and rest in on a large tree limb very close to the pond.

Bobby the bobcat climbed the tree and helped place the slide and attach it to the tree.

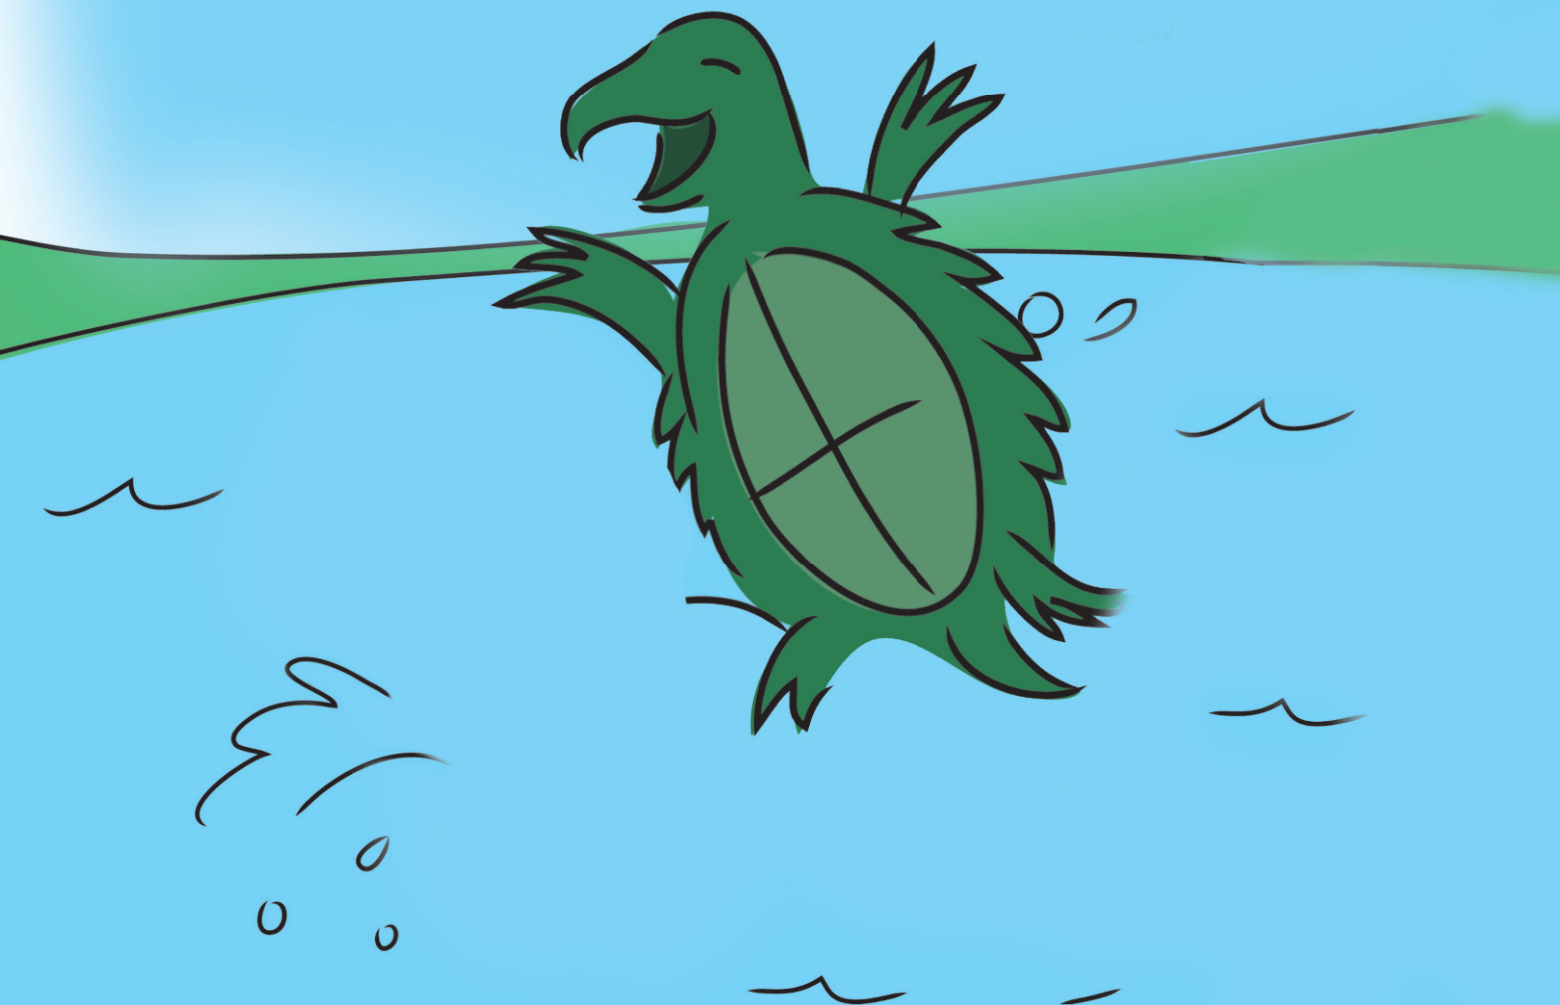

They splashed water on to the slide making it slippery and then they took turns going down the slide and into the water.

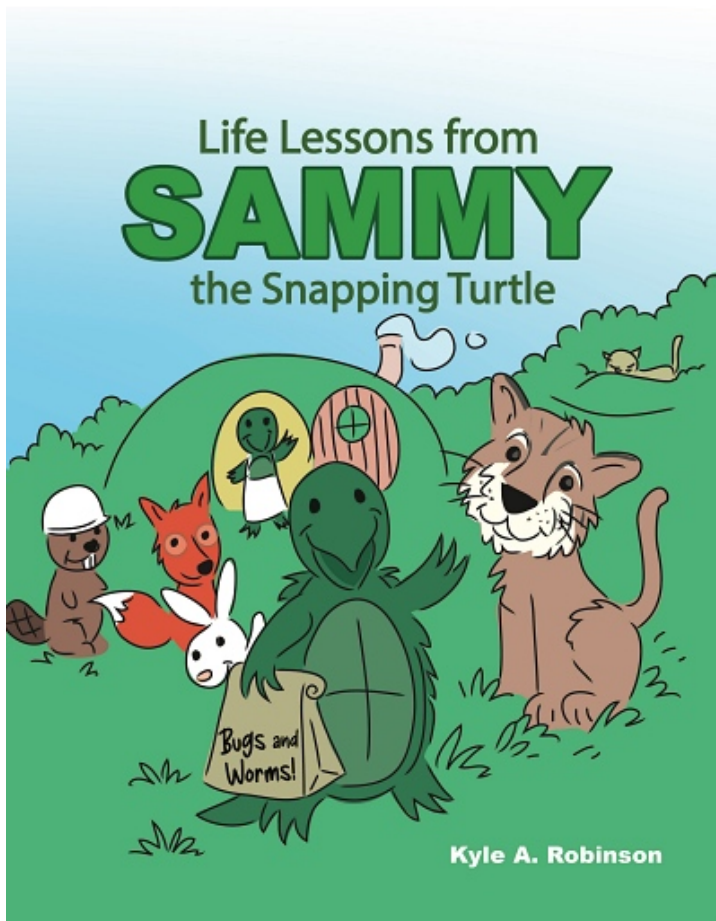

This was one of the most fun days of the summer and they were proud of their accomplishment.

Sammy said that we can do so much more when we work together as a team, like we did today.

They all slept very well that night after a long day of work and play.
