Cone

It all began with sticks and stones
From bashing balls to breaking bones
Staying the course at home alone
From where all contact was by phone
Then working out with clinging clones
To teasing tension into tickled tones
Dashed with dollops of dried out domes
Delivered by distinctive drones
Flinging far fetched into foam
Reaching royal reality roams
Named by nearly all as gnomes
Crumbling cakes of crazy combs
Finding all where none are known
Causing a collective groan
Being buried by bombs just blown
Hoisting hands by heavy hone
Finishing on flights of fancy flown
At least this model is my own

Worm

We all have our differences
So who cares
If the world is flat or round
If your thinking is straight
In your angular mind
Measuring moments in time
With multiple lines
Eat dirt
Interweaving interacting
Eight times figuring it out
Gathering momentum
Worlds apart
It's the thought that counts
As where did it start
When there is no beginning and no end
The question takes shape
If the world and worms are flat and round
Then how becomes why
Who takes pretty pictures
On the fly

Think life into being and become one with the Universe. All Rise - Words to the Wise does just that.
