Chapter 1

Once upon a time in The Great Barrier Reef, there lived a water droplet named Oozy. He had 2 best friends. A boy named Tadpole and a girl named Misty. They are little water droplets playing around in the open water space a little too close to the water surface every day. They were often told not to go too far to the surface because they were too young. Oozy and his friends never knew why until one day all of that changed. Oozy was inside his home cave watching TV. He got tired and was ready for bed. He had to walk through a tunnel to get to his bed. The left tunnel leads to his bedroom. The right tunnel leads to his parents' room. As he was walking towards the left tunnel, he heard voices in the right tunnel. It was his parents talking. Oozy got curious. “Should I listen to what they are saying or keep walking?” he thought to himself.

“The boy is growing up Sheryl. We both knew this time was coming,” said dad.

“But it’s dangerous up there and what if he gets lost?” said mom.

“Don’t you remember the first time we did it?” said dad.

“That was years ago. I’m talking about right now. Why does it have to be now?” said mom.

“You can’t keep Oozy here forever. He has to get out at some point. I thought you would be excited about this,” said dad.

“Dune everybody doesn't always come back from this,” said mom.

“Children will not rise to the occasion unless you show them trust. I know you’re worried and you have every right to be. But just think of it as an adventure for him” said dad. “If you don’t he’s not going to grow up and you don’t what that now do you? You have to let him go,” said dad.

Oozy was standing on the outside of the tunnel and he could hear everything. Now he wishes he didn’t hear that. So he pretended not to and went to bed. The next morning Oozy ran out of the cave into the open water to see his friends Tadpole and Misty. They were all feeling the same anxiety and confusion because each one heard their parents talk about the same mysterious thing. They were all ready to see each other for another game of Kick Bubble. Before they started the game however, their parents came to see them.

“Come with us children,” said Tadpole’s dad. “It is time for your first cycle.” Each pair of parents took their child by the hand and swam to the surface.

“Uhm mom?” said Misty. “We’re not supposed to go up there.”

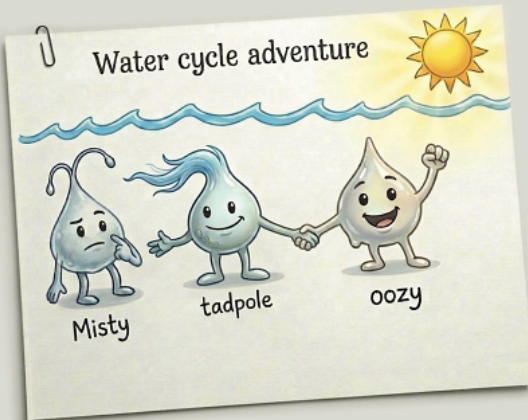

“That’s because it wasn’t your time yet but now the time has come,” said Misty’s mom. “At some point in your life you will have to go.”

“Go where?” said Misty.

“You’ll find out and you will know what to do when you see it,” said her mother with a heavy sigh. “You’re growing up so fast,” said Misty’s mom.

The sun was very bright that day. When they got to the surface, Tadpole’s dad said, “That is far enough. You kids keep going. This is where your adventures starts.”
