Oh Oh

My God

My original thought

My message received

My back story

My weigh in

My trial goes on

My word always true

My journey

My looking out

My seeing in

My body works

My head open

My energy levels

My gift gabs

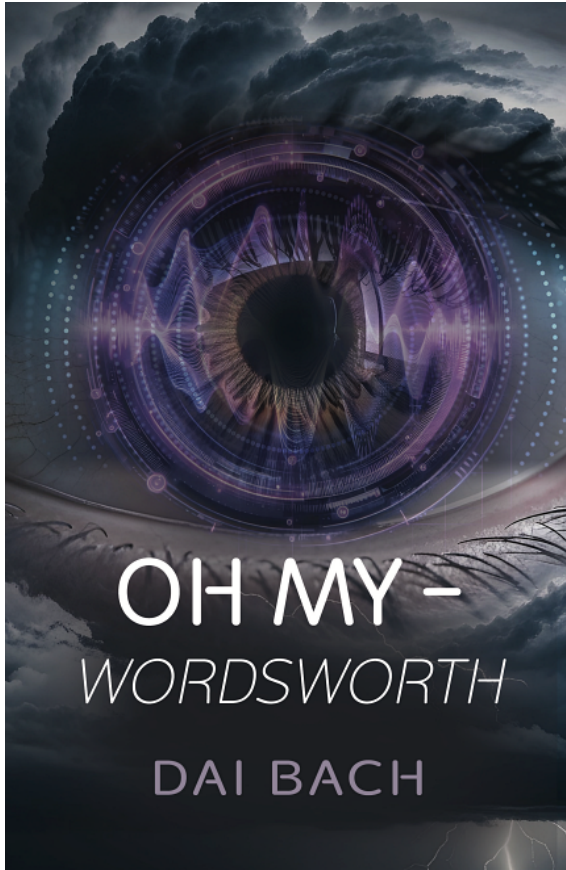

My face off

My patter packed

My chin cleft

Profile

Dai Bach is an author who believes weather modification might serve as his best defense for producing strange stuff, which he claims to be somewhat incoherent. At best his creation will appear obscure to anyone with little patience to persevere. He wishes good fortune to those who prefer to text and twitter for no other reason than to avoid struggling through his simple effort others might see as poetic emotion.
