Introduction - People who should read this book

- Everyone that is planning to go to Heaven.
- The Literate: The most important book you might ever read.
- You believe in God but have some unanswered questions.
- You don't really completely understand the soul. You say it is what?
- You are planning to go to heaven when you die but have some questions about that too.
- You believe in creation but have some questions about that as well.
- You want to believe in God, but don't want to go to church or join a religion.
- You want a clear explanation how to live your best life now.
- You go to church and want to make sure you have all the essential information about God?
- You are not certain what 'God's will' really means. What does God want from me?
- You are not sure what it means to control the energy of your soul. What does that even mean?
- You have had some puzzling thoughts about the Holy Bible, or other Holy books.
- You belong to a religion that believes Jesus was a great teacher?
- You belong to a religion that does not acknowledge Jesus in any way. What is the fuss about? Is there a fuss?
- You belong to any religion that worships the one true Creator, we call God.

Ronald G. Matthews

- You think sometimes that your life is a mess, with too much turmoil, and has too many unresolved issues, or you feel derailed? You want resolve!
- You follow the teachings of your clergy and believe they have you on the right track to heaven.
- You believe your religion or clergy is responsible for getting your soul to heaven, as long as you do what they say.
- You want to understand how to control your mind and soul?
- You are not confident about your connection to God, for any reason?
- You believe your family or friends are responsible for getting you to heaven?
- You're interested in learning about a parallel world that is ever present yet alien to us, and filled with beings that are alien to us as well?
- You think going to heaven is too hard.

If your answers to any of these questions lacked confidence, certainty, or caused you to wonder, and you would like to be more informed and confident, then this book should help you resolve all of those questions.

What is this book about?

- This book is a spiritual transformational program for your mind and soul. By following this program for evolving your mind and soul, will enable you to resolve everything important to you and will bring inner peace to your life.
- This book is a complete program for getting the energies of your body, mind, and soul synchronized with God.
- This book explains how to get to heaven. You show that you want to live with God in Heaven with a life focused on behaviors that are consistently energy building.

The Point

- This book will explain how God changed the rules for getting to heaven. It will explain how the energy, called the spirit of the teachings of Jesus, was missed by everyone up until now. This explanation could be shocking to you. All that has been confusing to you will finally make sense. You will say, "Of course that is right, I knew it all along".
- The thought and perspective of this book are a wonderfully unique look at God. It is intended for people that believe in God or want to. It is not intended to convince closed minded people or those resistant to God. It will provide fresh new clarity for those that are open to learning.
- This book explains how to evolve your soul to a higher purity, which is what God wants from us that are seeking God. You will learn how the soul is a separate being attached to us during this life on earth. That soul does not go to heaven empty either.
- This book explains how to evolve your mind with new knowledge and understanding.
- This book is for people that are averse to attending, or feel uncomfortable attending church or being a part of a religion, but want God.
- This book is for those that are part of any religion on the earth, but want a supplemental, reliable and independent source for learning about God.
- This book is for those that believe they are entitled to heaven, either by the promise to Abraham, or because of the blood sacrifice of Jesus by God.
- This book is the foundational core to all future presentations and programming we will provide. The future includes development of motion picture programming for specific topical study. One series will focus on the energy of behavior and another on relationships, and how to understand these better. It is not psychology. It is based in the 'felt energy' only our soul can register.

- Although this book primarily uses the energy of the teachings of Jesus to explain the Kingdom of God, it is absolutely not just for Christians. It is for anyone that wants to tune in better to God. It is teaching like you have never heard before. It crosses many established boundaries.
- This book explains a parallel world of God that is unseen by anyone. It teaches you about understanding that unseen world of God, such that it is clear to you. This book will show you how to bring good health to your immortal self that lives in that world.
- This book explains God as an energy source unlike any other. It explains this world of energy that defines everything, seen or unseen.
- This book does not quote scripture. It is not based in the literal writings of the Gospels, but is based in the 'Felt Energy' of the written word. Jesus called this viewpoint, the Spirit of the writing. Only the spirit is pure. The spirit of the teachings of Jesus is broader than the writing. The spirit reveals to us any additions or little mistakes made along the way, whether by translation, interpretation or insertion.
- This book is independent thought, not connected to denominational or religious charters, rules, creeds, formalities, customs, culture, conventions, procedures, books of order, and is supplemental to any religious instruction. This book teaches God for everyone. Why? God is for everyone.

You will be surprised and thrilled with the knowledge you gain from reading this book. It is filled with buried treasure. You will marvel at what you learn here. It is packed with new thought.

Chapter One

Why is this book necessary?

In this chapter, I want to pose some basic questions that will explain the NECESSITY FOR THIS BOOK.

What problem now exists, that needs to be addressed? Is there a problem in the world we are not aware of, but we should know more about?

Does this problem require a book to address the problem?

What is the problem?

The high level basis for this book: This book is based on my discoveries during a nine year period in which I did a transformation of my mind and soul. My transformation began with a life crisis. My marriage was in trouble and my now ex-wife convinced me to see a therapist with her. The first session revealed that my personal issues were highly destructive to relationships. He was a seasoned therapist.

The way I lived my life and the behaviors I used were normal to me and I never had cause to believe I had a problem with my behaviors. His confrontation opened me up to seeing what I was unable to see previously. He challenged me to pray to God to become a more loving person. I worked hard in therapy and studied all the self help books suggested by the therapist, or subsequently discovered myself. My mind was cracked open but unresolved by this therapy and I began searching for answers to my troubled spirit.

In the years of my transformation, I studied what religions teach, particularly the various Christian and new age religions. I familiarized myself with most of the non Christian religions. I still was nowhere near my goal to find an end to my inner conflicted energies. I was a complete mess. My reading and the therapy had revealed that my behaviors were abominable. With my new knowledge of my behaviors, I was actually worse off emotionally than when I started.

There was no alignment between the energies of my mind, my soul, and God. I had missed something. What was it? I racked my brain looking. I searched but could not find anything in print that resolved my inner conflicts.

I spent four years of focused and concentrated conversation with God, alone in my car, night after night, struggling with God. We spent thousands of hours together. My quest for inner peace consumed me!

God heard me, and slowly revealed to me an understanding of the energy that I have within my control that I was unaware of. This is energy that is available to me but was completely unknown to me, even with all the religious instruction I have had. This energy is part of what you will understand too after reading this book.

My expanded Journey: My transformational journey led me to discover new realizations that I was previously blind to. I was a horribly dreadful person when I started on this journey to become a more loving person. I studied the teachings of the best thought leaders and listened tirelessly over and over to their programs.

I tried to understand how to do everything I was told I should do. I didn't know how. But my wisdom grew. Each time I was stumped, I prayed for understanding. Some came easily and some tortured me. I am a highly resistant controlling person.

These realizations I had provided me the wisdom I was missing in my religious training and from the volumes of self help books I read. These realizations were not a part of the therapy I had received. Pure psychology is a science and does not recognize the unseen world of God, or the energy that only our soul can feel.

While I was in the process of reaching greater realizations, I was so consumed in thought, so immersed that everything else in my life became boring. I had become consumed with deep thought. I became comfortable with living this way. When I reached the end, I emerged from that isolation so I could share what I learned with you. Now, I can explain to you how easy it is to have the life you want and be completely confident you are on the way to heaven.

My journey took nine years from the start until all major realizations were reached. My evolution of mind and soul continues. Purification work goes on.

What prompted me to start this transformational journey?

My former wife and I were having marital problems. She interviewed several therapists on the phone and found one that was male, that she thought I wouldn't be able to manipulate and control. I agreed to go see him. He had worked with a lot of Vets, which was an added bonus. I was stuck on many issues in my mind about the war.

He had also gone through a divorce recently and was familiar with divorce first hand. His divorce had left him in a hole, but his skill was high and that is what I needed. I knew if I used him right, he could be valuable to me.

It began with the therapy: In the first session I went to, with my wife at the time, we were there to find solutions for our marriage problems. He talked to each of us about what we thought was wrong in the marriage. After each of us had voiced our thoughts, he said that before he could do any marriage therapy, he needed to do some one on one therapy with me first. I had no idea what he was talking about.

In that first session, the therapist gave me a book to read and to return the following week when I was scheduled to come back alone. I read the book, and was left shaking my head in disbelief. The book is out of print now. It was simply written. It was written by a lawyer that had faced the wretched person that he was, and discovered very dark behaviors. The name of the book was called '___ hole no more'.

I went back the second week having read the book. I told the therapist I was indeed what the book said. The therapist corrected me and said that my behavior was horrible, but I was not a ___hole. I had difficulty grasping his explanation.

I reached a plateau with the therapy pretty fast, after only a few sessions. I could only handle so much of this therapy. But he had successfully planted seeds for thought, and several of these seeds began to grow. I started to see the edge of the miserable darkness I was in.

My marriage continued downhill. Thinking I could resurrect the marriage, I asked my wife if we could return to the therapist. I wanted to see if the therapist thought the marriage was salvageable. We could not communicate with each other. This time it was her that reluctantly agreed to go with me.

The therapist didn't hesitate to say that there was no chance for the marriage to continue. I'm sure I knew already. I realized my wife had shut down to me completely.

In that session with my wife and the therapist, I told him that I wanted to continue seeing him for personal counseling. The seeds he had planted, in the prior sessions, had sprouted and my mind was in chaos.

He knew just how ugly my behavior was and said he didn't want to be my therapist. I had to beg. I promised him I would take it seriously and asked if he would assign me homework, which came in the form of books to read and digest.

He said I was argumentative and in denial of any responsibility for my behavior. I was shut down and hard headed. I was too intelligent! He thought I would try to out talk and outwit him. I agreed not to argue and just listen and respond to his questions. It was highly interactive therapy, versus just lying on a couch and talking without progress. I really wanted to see the progress. I wanted results.

He wanted to know why I thought I needed the therapy. I said "I don't do relationships well. That is all I know".

So I was humble and listened, asking lots of questions, and learned. He had reluctantly agreed to take me on.

There was lots of reading every week. I worked hard to understand him and what I was reading. It was shocking what I discovered about myself. I was an absolutely horrible person in how I used my behavior.

Within a couple of sessions we were rolling. He knew that I professed to be a believer in God and claimed to be a good Christian. He is Jewish, but he knew enough about the New Testament to use that in the therapy. He explained Jesus in a way I had never heard before, but his explanations made complete sense. Still, I felt no resolution, just more confusion.

He taught me how to visualize and asked me to visualize my funeral. He said to imagine that I could rise above the grave and look below at the funeral. The next week, I told him what I saw. I told him I saw my two children there at my graveside service and only them.

I heard them talking and could determine they were attending reluctantly, out of obligation. No one else was there. I assumed from the poor turnout that I had no family or friends that wanted to attend. It made me wonder what my life had been about, or what my carbon footprint had done to help the world. Did I have any redeeming value? I was saddened by this to the point of deep despair. I was headed down into a deep depression.

In a subsequent session, the therapist asked me to pray to God, and ask God genuinely, to make me a more loving person. The therapist wanted me to pray and insist that God make me more loving, no matter what it took. I prayed that prayer in all earnestness! God listened and took me to heart.

That prayer brought God's involvement into my long transformational journey. I actually asked God to take control of my life. I gave Him carte blanche to guide my life. God took control of my transformation at that point. It was a partnership with Him. He does the parts that I can't do. My part is the study and the mental processing part. I do everything that is within my power.

I was the artist clay, only was old and dried up broken clay. He had to break me down into someone usable from the clay. He did a really good job at that.

Ronald G. Matthews

My therapist told me after a few months of one session per week, that we had done what takes most people three years to do. He and I had disagreed about how to proceed and I stopped seeing him. Our sessions had become non productive. Progress had tapered off.

I had lost my job in Silicon Valley, and my life was collapsing all around me. I sold the house and was internet dating to the max to fill the hole in me. I was drinking hard, partying and out of control.

I had to quit my self help book reading for awhile while it soaked in more, and later picked it up again. We can only push so hard and then need to soak in our thoughts. That was the beginning of my transformation. It took several more years of looking hard for answers before I came to realize what was missing in the therapy, or religion, or literal scripture, or the entire self help world.

What we learn here: We will learn that our world has a parallel world that is unseen. This is called the spiritual world. God lives in this world as well as the angels of Heaven and of Mother Nature, demons, your soul and mine, and the spiritual definitions for everything God or man has created inhabit this world. These are the beings of the unseen world.

A spirit can only be described as an unknown energy that is created to do something specific. This energy defines everything. A complete spiritual definition powers the creation we see. We learn that this spirit can be felt by our soul, but not sensed by our five senses. Our soul lives in the unseen world, and communicates with other creations through their spirit.

We learn that our soul is not going to heaven empty. Our soul is collecting impressions from every feeling we have. The feelings our soul feels makes an impression on the soul. Impressions are kept in the memory bank of the soul, not the mind. The mind is not a filter over what feelings are stored. All feelings are stored in the soul. There is no limit. The mind stores knowledge, memories, and digested thought. Digested thought also creates a feeling that is stored in the soul.

The Point

We learn that every single thing we think or do creates a newly defined spirit. Each new spirit is alive. You have created it. It is your creation. Nothing can exist without an unknown energy that defines it. Other people feel the energy of your words, actions and sometimes our thoughts.

We know that great scientist have reluctantly decided that the energy that gives matter shape and function cannot be seen by any microscope. It cannot be measured with any instrument. Scientist cannot see the energy that powers any creation.

At least one famous scientist decided that the composition and function of all matter must have been decided by an external source that cannot be seen. Science has not gone so far as to say the external source must be The Master Energy Source we call God, but the implication is clear.

God is the name given to a monumental energy source that we have no comprehension of.

Every physical form that we can see or measure has an external unseen energy source that defines the shape and function. We call that a spirit. Your soul senses every spirit in your field. Your soul can find any spirit that you seek.

This energy, the spirit that defines matter but cannot be seen, lives in the unseen world called spiritual. Everything that exists has a spirit. Every word you speak, or thought you think, or sentence you speak, has its own spirit. A spirit is energy that is defined to do something specific, or many things. Do spirits change?

Someone tells you that you are ignorant. You take immediate offense. You harbor that hurt in your soul and a mind memory connects to this hurt in your soul. You have a disturbance from this damaging spirit in your soul. Later this person tells you they meant you are ignorant about how cell calls are able to exist. You now know they are right and this spirit is modified. You are resolved and this spirit no longer bothers you. This spirit now has a different feeling.

Ronald G. Matthews

A raisin has a spirit. All that the raisin can do is defined by an unseen power. That is the spirit of the raisin. The physical part of the raisin is what we see, taste, smell, or touch.

I want you to grasp this part quickly, as this information has evaded our attention for far too long. Our world is physical. Our soul is not physical. Our soul is not a human being, it is a Soul being. It is a life form of its own. This life form is immortal. It is unlike any alien that we can imagine, but is like an alien. This alien is connected to you and is under the control of your mind until your death.

Your mind does not have any idea what the soul is now, so the soul is neglected. The mind has become insensitive to the feelings that the soul reports to the mind. The feelings are thrown away in the 'I just can't comprehend that' file. Your mind disallows most feelings.

The mind is in control of the soul on this earth. With further awareness, the mind can decide to open the gate to the soul wider, so more feelings can get through. Until the mind acknowledges the unseen world, and understands that world, the soul has limited useful power. The mind is the gatekeeper and control center.

Feelings are stored in the soul. Your soul takes all of those to heaven. Your soul is not going to heaven with nothing inside. Everything you have ever felt is going with your soul to heaven.

You sense the physical world with your five physical senses. You register all you feel from the five senses and from the sixth sense you register all that surrounds you. Impressions are stored in the soul and memories in the mind.

WE will often repeat what is new or difficult to understand on the first pass. 'WE' interprets to mean my mind, my soul and God, the Master Energy Source. WE are writing this book together.

My time with the therapist had not brought me resolve. I had read dozens of books that addressed many ugly behaviors. These self help books are mostly written by people with various advanced degrees in psychology. Some venture into the unseen world of the spiritual.

Pure Psychology is the science of the mind by definition. Science does not recognize what it cannot quantify, or measure. Science excludes God. Science excludes your soul. Though some psychologists will discuss the spiritual, they do not recognize that we have a separate attached fully functional alien.

Consequently, most therapists have no idea how to help the soul, a separate being, to get healthy. No matter how much therapy you have, if your soul is unresolved, the therapy is only partially helpful.

I picked up every self help book that I could find. Sometimes I studied everything in the book, and some I scanned in the library or book store, and glued in to the parts that hit a memory or a feeling. The lack of answers drove me crazy.

The information that the books provided me, caused me to take a dive. I became deeply depressed. I began a grieving process that lasted for a long time. I simply couldn't find the answers I needed to resolve my inner energy conflicts. I could not find resolve in any book I read, or audio I heard or video I watched. I thought there must be something more that I was missing. What was the missing piece?

Previously, when I was doing the therapy, my Therapist had challenged me in our sessions to pursue a goal that was not so easily achievable for me. I had long wanted to pursue a goal to produce high quality educational motion picture programming. My children were both away at college or working, and so I moved to LA to learn the film business.

The first year there, I got connected to film people. In my transformational progress, I was now fully depressed and I had lost all my fire and energy. Realizing all the damage I had done had caused me a deep despondency. I had been hopeful that this pursuit would bring me greater meaning in life. Instead, I felt like dying. But I am not suicidal, so became a lump of lifelessness in the corner, bemoaning my situation. I had pity parties, but no one came.

Ronald G. Matthews

I held on to that goal to produce my style of educational programming. I got involved in learning the film business by reading many books, and getting onto movie and television production sets. People in the business advised me the best way to get on a lot of sets. I am a good visual learner and studied the many techniques used in the actual filming. I did not get much exposure to post production, where a good part of the magic happens.

It came at a time when much of the production was moving from film to digital, so was able to see the differences. The more I learned about filmmaking, the more elusive this goal became.

I could see after taking a popular two day film school that I would need a lot of money to do what I wanted to do. It would take huge amounts of money to produce a substantial library. I have no experience raising capital.

I had worked with some startups in Silicon Valley and knew that if your company was not up and working well, or viable competitors, they are easily bought, taken over by the giants and put to sleep. I didn't want that to happen. It seemed no part of that dream, with the high and lofty goals, would ever come to pass for me. This goal simply seemed too big for me.

I decided to publish a book about the educational methodology, which explains how to do this type of instruction I believe the world desperately needs. I had come to believe that the book was the answer and perhaps the most success I could expect. Perhaps that book would permit others a blueprint. It seemed everything I wanted to do, even imagining a worldwide distribution network, was out of my hands and therefore not a realistic goal.

I wrote several drafts of the book about the methodology, I let a friend read part of it and the news was painful. She told me the book was genius, but there was probably no market for the book. I was devastated! I went to God in prayer about that.

When you have a goal, each step you achieve should be considered a success. Take all the successes you can, even if others don't see it as a great success, it is. That you accomplished any part of your goal is a success.

While I was learning the film business, I continued my 'self help' and Bible study. Some of the material I had to read or listen to so many times, as I was just not getting something. I was deeply troubled. I attended various churches that were popular. I became involved with Bible study groups.

I studied the teachings of certain theologians. I listened in on the groups that formed around other popular self help gurus. This seemed to attract many other people with unresolved energies. Some were people from the Transcendental Meditation movement that were still seeking answers to resolve their conflicts.

Now I have been able to see why none of the teaching provided me a feeling of resolve. That is what I was looking for. I really wanted to feel good inside, and about myself.

I am the type of person that likes to ask a lot of questions when I am confused. It is irritating and infuriating to most teachers. I usually don't wait to be called on, as they ignore me. When I hear something that doesn't make sense, I ask the questions that come to mind. Often these are hard questions.

I studied every word of what was spoken in sermons from the CD's. I looked for inconsistencies, or fabrications, or smoke and mirrors versus complete truth. I listened to every quality self help guru. I did everything I could to find the answers that would bring peace to me, but there was no peace.

My finances had gotten low. I was making very little money. It left me unable to afford much. I was poor to the max. I had burnt my bridges from every job I ever had, and could find no familiar work. Do you remember what the book was called that my therapist first gave me? Well, those behaviors were prevalent in the jobs I had as well. No one wanted me back.

Having no money to do normal things, I spent countless hours in my SUV thinking, reading and questioning. I felt so bad, I would cry out to God for answers and relief. God told me He loved this alone time with me in my truck, as He and I had a lot of time to talk. And talk we did. We talked for weeks, months and that became years. We talked night and day.

I had told God a while back, that the rest of my life would be focused on serving Him, as I understood it. I wanted to make up for all the damage I had done in my life. I thought that serving God meant producing instructional programming, but God had made other plans for me.

God told me to put that dream of filmmaking, along with those goals, on the back burner with no heat. I interpreted that to mean it was dead. God had told me to forget those goals for now. God had new plans for me.

That was fairly devastating, as I had been thinking about and researching my ideas for over thirty five years. I kept remembering the one producer that spoke to a group I attended. He told us to, "Never, never, never give up" on our quest. He actually said 'never' about twelve times. His determination in becoming such a major producer was remarkable.

Every time I was stumped in my understanding, I prayed for wisdom. God is very generous with understanding. I wanted the pain to stop. My world was upside down. I was in a horrible mental state. Sometimes I felt like life was over and I should just die. At times my heart would well up and would physically hurt.

My children, up North in the SF East Bay Valley area, were highly concerned about my state of mind, and were shaken by my pursuit and meager living situation. All this time I prayed for God to take care of them. He did! My quest for transformation, and how I thought I was supposed to serve God, caused me to feel irresponsible to my son and daughter.

As I learned how to love, my love for my kids grew large. I desperately wanted to spend more time with them. Early on, they had not seen the changes in my behavior they needed to see. I had not found the right answers yet. They still thought of me for the behavior I had shown while they were growing up. Feeling my feelings was not enough to convince anyone I was changed, as my behavior lapses were apparent. I desperately wanted them to see a new me. I was hurting like never before.

The Point

I wanted to show them I had become a new person. But they were in the north and I was in LA. I would change a bit and then tell them I had changed, but I was far from the changes I needed to make, and they didn't believe me.

I had caused them a lot of damage, and though I wanted to no longer do that, it seems that the damage continued with my absence and living situation. That has provided me a lot of sadness. I learned how to cry! I would cry out to God in deep anguish. I have yet to fully reconcile those relationships. Mending broken relationships takes time, no control agenda, a lot of love and a need to be a lot more available as well.

The strain on my relationships, with my adult children, has provided me many gut wrenching painful years of sadness. They tell me the same is true for them. How happy I will be to see greater resolution.

Bit by bit, God revealed to me what I needed to know. The information I needed to know was right in front of my eyes but I didn't understand so couldn't see it. What I discovered was amazing. I discovered that I did not understand the unseen world of God. That is where the answers were. Nothing is complete until you understand the felt energy of everything in your life.

I had a superficial and legalistic understanding of God. I could say the words of scripture but didn't understand what I was saying. I discovered a world that could only be compared to science fiction.

This world is filled with beings that are alien to my understanding, or anything I could have ever imagined. God provided me the wisdom and visual images that brought me new synchronized energies.

I discovered that God is a massive energy source. I did not really understand the world we call spiritual. I discovered it was much more involved than anything I have ever heard in church or in all the bible study groups I had been in. I questioned whether any teacher of the Bible I had ever heard was tuned into this world of energy that exists separately, yet all of which is present in our physical world.

Ronald G. Matthews

I was legalistic in all my beliefs. I did not understand the spiritual world. Putting the physical and spiritual together provided a complete picture. There is no synchronization of energies until you do that.

I was raised to be a strict and conservative Christian. My father's dream for me was to be a Southern Baptist Minister. I listened carefully to all I was taught in my religious training. I asked questions that drew many blank stares from the Bible teachers, often being told my questions were heresy.

I was questioning what I was supposed to just accept. This is not allowed in religion. They do not want you to question what they say. You are just supposed to accept it and believe they are right. I wanted an explanation for my questions so I could understand.

No matter which religion or denomination, my questions met with scowls, finger shaking, and verbal condemnations. Ugh! It was horrible trying to find answers to the mysteries of God.

It seemed I was being taught in church that what is evil was actually good. Condemnation of non Christian professing people was considered good to religion, while having sex with someone you love is bad. You can see how confusing things were to me.

It seemed everywhere I looked, in or out of religion, the answers I needed, no one seemed to have.

I discovered that people do not understand the world of unseen energy called spiritual. I could find no one that seemed to understand what is going on in this alien world, where beings exist that are stranger than anything imaginable. The power of this world exceeds anything I could imagine. This spiritual world was actually very real and ever present, but unseen.

People do not understand that they have an alien life form attached to them until they die. This alien has intelligence, reasoning, creativity and stores our feelings. This life form will provide us physical results in our life. The soul works for you even though you are unaware of it. It responds to what you believe is true. It perpetually reaches all around you sensing every other spirit.

The soul can find and communicate with any other spiritual forms, including the spiritual energy of a book. The soul connects with the spirit of the book and will cause the book to fall off the shelf. This type of connection is commonly reported.

Jesus said our soul can connect to the spiritual energy of a mountain and tell it to jump into the sea. You only need to truly believe it and have no doubts about it. That is a lot of power the soul has. It is only possible in the unseen world. The mind need only release that power.

The evidence is enormous, even preponderous. The more God gave me wisdom about this world, the more fascinating it became. I finally had tapped into the energy of God that is unseen to us, but is in everything He created, and is in everything we think, say or do.

I did not understand what the soul is exactly. I talked about my soul like it was, of course, going to heaven, but had no idea what was going to heaven. I had a pretty good idea about angels and demons, or at least thought I did, but the soul that I explain, was never taught to me. I will teach you how to understand this soul so you can understand it is the key to your power now and in heaven.

It is the soul that will cause your life to become energized. Only God can destroy a soul. It is immortal. It lives on.

All creations have a spirit. Only man has two spirits. One of our spirits is the energy that sustains the body functions. That is governed by Mother Nature. The other spirit is a fully functioning being that has its own mind and knows how to negotiate in the world of spirits.

Our mind cannot know how the soul's world works. However, the intelligence center of the soul, feels the mind's energy exactly. It never has to ask if you believe something or not, as it will respond to anything you believe, whether it is good or evil.

All creations have a spirit, whether a stone or an ape. In creation thinking, we must remember that every creation starts in the unseen world with energy we cannot understand. We cannot understand that we are defined and powered by an energy that we cannot see. The energy we cannot understand or see, that defines us physically, and that only God understands, enables us to exist. Primate man had a spirit but not a soul. Primate man was the field experiment of human functionality.

Our soul was created to be immortal. Only angels, demons and the human soul were created to be immortal. Only God can create or destroy a soul. All the feelings you have that go into the soul, on this earth, are stored there for eternity. The soul takes all our feelings to heaven. Each feeling has a defined energy, like a recording. One feeling cannot be mistaken for another.

The Mind can control our attached soul, a separate 'being' while on the earth. The soul uses its own intelligence and ability to get things done in the unseen world. We know that now. The soul will bring you results in your life.

These results, like writing that is better than your best, is in response to what the soul senses you truly believe. You don't need to be aware of that for that to happen. It is happening now. These results are limited by what the mind will allow.

The mind thinks these results are the result of having a good day, or bad. If you think you should be depressed, the soul steps up and makes sure you are thoroughly depressed. It uses the power it has in the unseen world to do that.

When you become more aware of the soul, you can direct it to bring you results. The mind must still see you absolutely believe this is possible and that you want it very much. Your mind has ignored this attached alien being because of a lack of knowledge about it. The soul can slightly extend your current abilities by a small margin. This is something the mind will allow.

But if you wanted the soul to allow you to fly down the football field, it would not do that. You simply don't believe this is possible. The soul could easily carry you down the field. When you learn to convince yourself of this power, your results will be better. You that want greater success should learn how to convince the mind of what the soul is capable of.

The Point

The soul can see the real truth of anything. It senses the absolute truth of every spirit. Spirits cannot hide their truth. The spirit of anything is transparent to the soul. When we take conscious control of our mind and allow the soul to do its best work, you will see amazing power come into your life.

Where do you go to learn about God? Why is this book necessary? Where do you learn about this soul? This being that is formless and can reach thousands of miles instantly to connect with another soul? Where do you go now if you want to learn about that soul?

You can go to church to learn. But does church teach you all you need to know? What if you don't go to church? Where do you go to learn about God? What if religion has done more damage to your soul than helped it? Where do you go now? Are you supposed to give up on learning about God? What if you feel like an alien in church like I do?

I discovered that this alien soul is attached to us for the remainder of our lives, and is limited by the control of our mind. The mind doesn't understand this alien being but the mind IS responsible for the soul. We explain how your mind can take control of itself.

Only the soul goes to heaven after your physical death. The body does not go to heaven. The mind is part of the body. Therefore your mind is not going to heaven. What does the soul have inside of it that does go to heaven? If the soul doesn't have our memories that are in the brain, then what will the soul rise to heaven with? What would God do with an empty shell in heaven? What would be the point of your time on Earth? What is this soul taking to heaven that makes it uniquely us?

The world has changed

What has changed in the world that is worthy of note? Some major changes have happened in recent decades. Now we have very fast wireless internet speeds and Wi-Fi everywhere. We have amazing smart phones. Our computers are able to do streaming video. Do you wonder how much better it could be than now? Our technology is quite advanced.

God can dispatch angels to you in less than a second. What kind of technology is that? The internet provides us broad and far reaching content that is allowing more freedom to learn than ever before.

Therefore, we are able to provide you good quality instruction about God or anything, available any time you are ready for it. If you feel like you want a nice backdrop for prayer, or meditation, or a beautiful garden, or listen to uplifting music, or tune up your behavior or relationship skills, then you should have that available. Wouldn't you prefer a special setting available for your mind and soul when you need it? How about a nice visualization along with words to soothe? It is our intent to provide you those.

How are things different with this approach? This book will be the foundation for all that will be developed and available to you on the Web site or product form. Everything you will need to satisfy your spiritual needs will become available. You can tune in whenever you want to feed your soul. This is the direction God has taken me. This programming will be done in our own unique way. It will always make you feel better.

God said He would arrange the financing for development. He keeps saying to me, "When you are ready Ron". Last night I looked at the sunset and decided God knows perfectly well how and when to help. He makes a different and perfect sunset every night.

Certainly he knows what I will need. Nevertheless, I keep asking Him about the arrival of financing. He said to be surprised when things show up. I am constantly surprised and amazed at who and what does show up.

I want you to feel a lot better by tuning in. I want to make it a safe place that you thoroughly enjoy coming to. There will be a great need for people that are like minded and masters in filmmaking, writers, etc. We will need good life situations to recreate. I hope you that are reading, that have mind boggling issues, will share these with us. I am a strong believer in using many examples to teach everything. We want you to be thoroughly entertained with any experience you have with us. Do you think this would be valuable to you?

This teaching will be independent of religion. I teach the energy of God as taught by Jesus. There is no other teacher that knows God better than Jesus. Why focus on second best? It is costly to construct feature quality programming that complies with the tough standards of my educational methodology. The quality will evolve as funding allows.

Gradually you will become powerhouses with your new knowledge. You will become a powerful source of good feelings to others. This growth goes on for your entire life.

Later in the book I will explain why it was necessary for God to send Jesus. Some of you have had the Jesus beat out of you. I use the energy of Jesus teachings and not the exact words. It is very different. Only the spirit of Jesus teaching is pure and true. Original energy always stays intact.

Each contributor's spirit lives in the text of the Gospels.

We can differentiate which is pure and which is not pure, from what was originally written. Between, above and around the words, we allow the energy to communicate to our mind. The soul is our feed. We glean the energy felt from our deep focus on that feeling. We are able to see things we could not see with our eyes, and has not been seen by anyone previously.

Jesus did nothing by accident. Everything He did was with exactness. He made sure He had many firsthand witnesses. His birth coincides to the alignment of three planets that foretold the birth of the King of Kings. Now who could have made that up?

Some things are written in the stars? How else could you look at that coincidence of Jesus birth, except with naivety? What would it mean to be born the King of Kings?

Jesus was highly confrontational and used language with such intelligence that it infuriated the religious leadership. Jesus confronted, provoked and agitated, and became the target of the leaders of the church. His questions were asked with words that confounded. He could have easily avoided his death, but He pushed forward, insuring each thing met with prophecy. Who would think to do such a thing?

Jesus said not to allow Him to be a stumbling block to finding God. He has been used exactly that way. I will show you clearly that Jesus should not be a block to anyone finding God. I will show you why.

What has changed that is notable here? In many civilized countries, freedom of thought has only recently become a reality. Finally we can think independently of family, friends, community, religion, customs, culture, or traditions. We can think without fear of retribution about our expressed thoughts. We must open ourselves to that. It goes against what is normal for us.

Now you can learn privately about this powerful energy force called God. There is no mandate to belong to a religion or attend a religious facility. You needn't talk it over with people that might mock your thinking or your questions. Now it will stay between you and God.

I am not against church. Most churches have programs that serve you socially, and provide you commonality. Church provides community, and helps people that are in need. Those are highly valuable things to God.

But many churches are a source of pain that damages souls. That is not the behavior of God. Churches are not immune to the demons of its members or clergy. Churches do not teach how to confront the demons of others. Politics can be a dark energy in churches. Money becomes a primary focal point. People are left to flounder, for want of good teaching about God. Sermons are theater but they do placate the sheep.

Because of the freedoms that we now have, we can question status quo. In the past, you were silenced about saying anything that didn't fit with village thinking. Now we can look and find greater truths.

Truth is what we seek. These new freedoms allow us to step outside of the control of others influence, without being burnt at the stake, condemned to harsh punishment, ostracized by the people in your world, or told you are going to hell. We are free to discover what we have not been able to question before now.

Whether you are a churchgoer, you like religion or don't, whether you are Christian, or any other religion, you should have access to religious teaching that makes sense to you about the journey to heaven. It is your soul after all. No one can save your soul for you. It is up to you.

You should have teaching available to you about how to synchronize the energy of your mind with your soul. This alignment of energy provides you greater power than you can imagine. It is powerful! You will see!

Don't you deserve to know how to make this power work for you? Most of us want to know we are headed to heaven. What is this thing about sin anyway? What does God expect from us?

What is sin really? Is it true that there is a judgment? Is there a chosen people? Where do you go to find out if you are unsure of these questions and more? Will church teach you?

Most churches do their best to teach, but the teaching is often less than you would expect in order to really understand about the soul or truth about God. Church teaching always reflects church doctrine. Church doctrine is easily tainted by those giving refuge to the scriptural twisting demon.

You deserve good quality comprehensive instruction that addresses the energy (the spirit) of the teachings about God. For those that have received instruction about God, you will want to complete your knowledge by tuning into the energy that was really expressed by Jesus teachings.

Jesus taught that the religious leaders had focused only on the written promise or commandments. This was literal interpretation and not the spirit. How could they possibly have understood what is still a huge mystery?

Here we focus on the felt energy of the teachings of Jesus and not the writing specifically. We understand that the writing has an unseen spirit, and without the writing, there would be no spirit.

Ronald G. Matthews

What you read must really feel right to you or you will have conflicted energy. It must satisfy any confusion. It should make complete sense to you. That can only happen when you can feel the energy. Is it consistent thought? You ask questions. Some things interpreted simply don't make sense.

No matter what you are involved in, you should always ask this question, "where is the gain". Is it providing you something that is important? Does the energy from what you are feeling provide you a lift or does it beat you down?

Is it good energy that lifts or bad energy that drains? That is the defining point in sin. It is really simple! Always, in any endeavor ask, where is the gain? That is what we are here to do, to learn how to raise the energy level in your mind and soul.

We learn how to become a source of energy to others that can and will raise the energy of your physical and immortal life. We must take control over the being attached to us that is going to Heaven. It is horribly neglected.

This book will teach you what is required to go to heaven. It is easy! You only have to pursue being a good person. You want to use good energy. It is that easy. The key word in that statement is 'want'. You must really want it in all seriousness. How do you do that? You learn how!

You cannot fool God. God cannot be deceived. Anything you want you work toward. You can't say you want to do good deeds or think good thoughts, and then just stay ignorant of the world of your soul. You become a seeker of truth.

Reading this book will teach you about the energy filled world of God. If you have issues, the book will explain how to get your issues resolved that are damaging to your soul. You will learn how to get your soul cleaned up so it doesn't stay neglected any longer.

We spend time cleansing the soul. Cleansing is tied directly to the understanding that you get from your reading, study and contemplation. This book will show the need to make the study of the behavior of God, an important part of our life.

We are preparing for heaven. We need to get our soul cleaned up and prepare it thoroughly. Jesus said we need to prepare for the wedding. Your wedding clothes are how you adorn your soul. It is your finest clothing. Your body is not going to heaven, nor is your mind.

What does spiritual clothing look like? This time on earth is our audition time for heaven. What would be the result of doing an audition badly?

Jesus said we need to be prepared as if for a wedding feast, which was the biggest event of those times. You dress your soul by getting rid of the ickies. You clean it up real good and dress it with the best behaviors. You enable the power of the soul with the mind.

Our mood and attitude become a high for us. Your good feelings are peaking. Heaven will be a good time. We need to prepare ourselves to have a good time, by having a good time here on the earth. We need to start having that good time now.

Let us leave the glum life and build our own energies. That is what God wants from us, to evolve our soul to its greatest state of power. Not too complicated at all is it?

We will show you how to cleanse your soul of any stinkies in it. We will show you how to protect your soul, such as to resist any more damage. We will show you how to use behaviors that provide you greater choices.

We will show you the necessity for control of your mind, in new ways and for new reasons. This self imposed mind control will enable your soul to provide you miraculous results with your struggles and goals. It will release your soul from the bondage that comes from not understanding its power.

When you want to go to heaven, it means you want your soul to live with God in a new body after your physical body dies. Your soul must get prepared for service to God. What is service to God on the earth? It is the control of energy for the purpose of goodness.

Ronald G. Matthews

You learn how to raise the energy of your world, and learn how to quit draining energy from yourself and others, which is against God.

You learn that God wants people in Heaven that work at strengthening their behaviors that are good. This will make others feel good, and raises their energy. God's people practice doing the right thing, and understand what they are doing and why it is right. They know how to read the spirits around them. That is what we teach.

If you were God, would you invite the people that have ignored you, to come live with you in your Kingdom? How would low level energy from the lethargic and disapproving person, serve you, as God, in heaven? God is not desperate for people to live in heaven. It is not a right simply because you were born human. You must show God the love you feel for Him. You do that with your behavior.

God told me it took an amazing number of centuries to design mankind? He said to me that this time was grueling. Mankind has presented many challenges to God. God has had to change much because of Mankind's choices. God changed the earth around because of mankind. He changed the lifespan when the Garden was physically ended with Noah. He changed the rules for going to heaven.

It's simple! God wants the people that want Him. He needs to trust you in heaven to do what He wants. He wants to know when you have a job to do for Him, that you will do it and not flake. You start building that trust now. You need to understand Him as much as you can.

Many will lay claim to God and Jesus. Jesus said that people will say they loved God when they die, and yet, there was little action to back up their claim. It is the soul that goes to heaven. God looks to see what you are doing about your soul. You must really include God in all your life. You pray in private and talk to God throughout the day. You include God directly or by consideration, in everything you do.

The Point

I will teach you that your job on this earth is to understand that there are two things that can happen with your energy. You can use your energy for good or bad. It is strictly your free choice. One type of energy helps build your soul and others. One type shuts down your soul and others.

If it builds positive energy, it is good, and is then 'Of God'. God is good. Only God is good. The rest of us are less than purely good, as the forces against us are strong. There are none among us that are good. When you use the other type of energy, the energy prompted and controlled by dark forces, it always causes damage.

We work at improving the control of our mind, so we can better use the energy that is good. The mind must understand that. You train your mind how to do that. Our mind is always looking to say, or do, or think something that will lift the spirits of other people. We practice infusing good and lifting energy into others.

We are careful, that in our efforts to raise the energy level, we are not actually lowering it. If you are not in tune with the energy of a person, even though your intentions are high, you can cause damage to their soul. We will make mistakes. Every situation provides us new challenges for our new understanding of behavior. You can tell if your efforts are raising or lowering the energy of another person by the many expressions that people show.

This is one goal for evolving the soul. You learn to become keenly aware of the spirits that surround you. Each person that is in your life has a different spirit. Learning how to treat others, based on the feel of their spirit, is foundational for service to God. We are building a strong foundation.

When you become more sensitized to the energy of others, is when you will know what you can do to raise their energy. Some people are completely elevated by being treated with respect. Often just a slight smile can raise the energy of their day. It will become obvious to you, and you'll know what to do in most situations.

Ronald G. Matthews

If a person senses you are not connected, are just patronizing them, and not showing sensitivity to the condition of their soul, then it is superficial.

Evolving the soul is what we must do if we really want to live with God in Heaven. Consistently raising the energy around us takes time to learn. Even though those behaviors are inherent, or hard wired in us, they might not have been modeled to us. If behavior is not modeled, then where would you learn?

We practice our sensitivity to the feelings coming through our soul, all day, every day. We must often raise our own energy as well, when we are low. We use our mind control skill by self talking ourselves out of valleys, pits, and wells. We realize when our energy has lapsed and start walking out with a fully aware mind. We call on God for reinforcements and problem resolution.

Sometimes we experience lows because God has had difficulty getting through to us and is doing some arm twisting. We must beg God for mercy when He is trying to teach us something we are resisting. The book of Psalms features the times David had to repent for the many wrongs he had done. He had a life of many highs and lows. God provided the lows for the times when David did wrongs.

Don't confuse the pain of discipline with the pain from evil. Discipline always builds you, whereas evil just destroys.

For years, God would use my back as his foot rest. He is heavy. I couldn't move sometimes. I was paralyzed. It made me think, "Am I getting something wrong that I need to see"?

I have discovered how to evolve the soul, and want you all to know how to do this. We turn our lives into a power that causes us wonderful feelings. These feelings are like none previously experienced. We get as close to heaven as is possible on this earth. We learn how to appreciate every little thing that gratifies our day.

Every time I am within range of a compliment being passed, I don't turn around and look to see if it was for me. I assume it was for me. If your presence in the area has prompted someone to compliment another, then consider it is also meant for you. If your energy was dark, they would not be so prompted. I say “thank you”, under my breath and that brings a smile to my face, and I walk on with greater energy.

What is ahead in this book?

This book will provide the structure, the framework that is foundational for subsequent programs of instruction and related help in understanding God. This book is a lifelong reference to you. Keep your copy.

As you learn more about the unseen world of God, you will feel better and better about yourself. It will resolve your questions. Even if you have read every self help book, or currently use other methods to achieve closeness to God, or are religious or know the Bible inside out, or have had sixteen years of therapy, this teaching will resolve those energies such that they all work together for you.

This book is not Psychology. Psychology is science. This book is not about science. It is also not literal bible. This book is based purely in the energy of Jesus teachings. We look at the energy. The energy is felt by the soul.

The energy of Jesus teachings paints a feeling. When you consciously understand this amazing energy, you will say, “Wow! What? Huh?” It will finally resolve all your inner conflicting energy.

Now, there will be no reason for thinking you will be ‘left behind’. You are going to heaven if you wish. Your religion, or no religion, is not a factor. This teaching will show you how easy it is to get to heaven and serve God there, however He wants, for all times.

I like to imagine what heaven is like. Is it like I imagine? Perhaps so! Can you imagine living a more heavenly life now, on this earth?

What is the point? Find God! He has challenged us to find Him. Are you fully confident you know God? He provided all we need to make a choice in His favor. Your soul is the prize. It is your choice and yours alone who gets the prize. People will certainly try to influence your decision, and among the most active doing that, will be dark forces that inhabit you and everyone around you. God wants to be found by us. He wants us to want Him. He wants us to understand.

We are not interested in mimicking any church or religion. We will not use the language of any religion, which can have the tone and smell of self righteousness. It is a big turn off to me and others. Jesus said that pretentious religious people use this behavior for their own glory in the church. Neither do we want to connect this teaching to any religion or denomination. You will soon see why!

A preview of the next chapter: What? You say anyone can go to heaven? Judaism, Christianity, Muslims, or any religion are not factors. You practice the behavior of God and that shows God you are serving Him. That is what God wants. Our service through good behaviors is how you show God you believe. We must learn how to do that and why. You will see the logic is absolutely sound, and it will leave you feeling like, "Of course that is right Ron" because it feels right.

The Point will open your eyes like nothing ever has before. It is filled with fresh thinking and hidden treasures, and is based on fresh understanding from Ron's spiritual transformation. It explains the energy of the unseen world of your soul and God. A seven-step program for evolving your soul explains how you can resolve all your inner conflicted energies. You will feel elated.*
