Introduction: An Intended Valley Experience between Mountains

Everything you heard about giving your life to Jesus was about His everlasting love for you. You believed the testimonies. You expected a change in your life. Instead, regardless of how hard you tried to live different, old, worldly, habits increasingly occurred. People, that you left behind in your past, due to their negative effect on your life, suddenly reappear. They profess that they have changed. Time revealed they had not.

Nothing made sense. Perhaps you began to lose hope. You secretly come to the conclusion that you will never experience the promised joy and peace as Christ's new person.

To top it off, the general consensus suggests that God's people are just not trying hard enough. And, the bad attitudes, unrealistic emotions, and the indulgence of immoral fleshly deeds, are due to a person's own desire to commit sin.

In contrast, the men and women of the Bible knew the truth.

Women of God, His Word is clear. This spiritual conflict is real.

Satan's behavior with Eve in the Garden of Eden was just the tip of the iceberg. God reveals in His Word that from the beginning, Satan's goal was and is to kill, steal, and/or destroy the children of God, John 10: 10. Fast forward to the twentieth century. My book Mine, an Everlasting Promise of Love, Deliverance, and Wholeness, confirms the continuity of the devil's goal.

God opened my spiritual eyes to His existence in 1995. Twelve hours later, the devil began his campaign in earnest to trick me into committing the same act of lack of trust in God as Eve.

In short, Satan used the death of my beloved husband to challenge God's truthfulness of His written promise of love for me and thus His promise of deliverance. However, as each chapter of Purposely Unchained reveals, something more was at stake.

In the continuance of his goal, the devil tossed my fledgling faith around like a toy ship that is riding the raging waves of the Pacific Ocean. That is, until God revealed the devil's true intent. The knowledge of how to righteously fight back is revealed in God's foolproof battle plan. Purposely Unchained shares it in several steps. They also disclose the startling purpose of persecution.

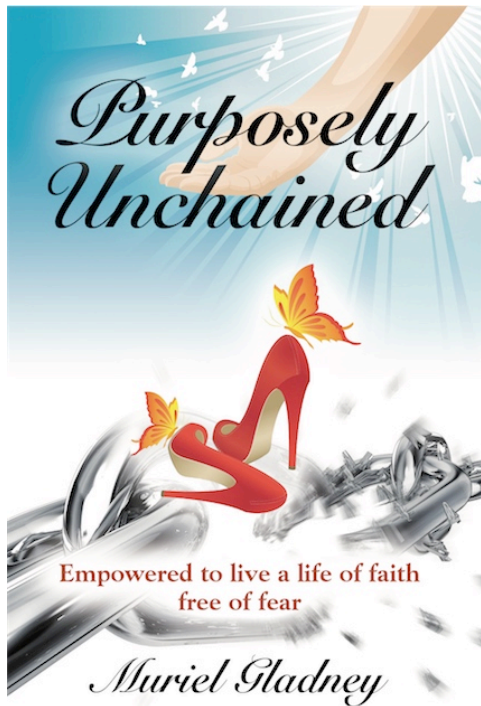

Jesus said the enemy is defeated. It is God's Will that His people live on earth in this victory. This includes freedom from demonic chains of bondage from childhood, habitual sins, immorality, etc., some of which had unknowingly held me prisoner since childhood.

God's renovation plan is foolproof. You WILL arise victorious as His new and FREE warrior in HIS kingdom on earth.

Women around the world are familiar with spa body makeovers. They consist of an intense process where the clients develop a new body. More so, they are trained to think different about their attitudes and behaviors.

God's renovation plan can be likened to a spiritual health spa treatment.

Mine began with an electrifying light show that rivaled the billboard lights of Broadway in New York city. However, it also included an image of a dead body.

This book is an inspiring presentation and proof of the eternal truth that Jesus' church will not be defeated. It brings Jesus' promise of His everlasting love and involvement in a believer's life off of the pages of the Bible and into the daily lives of today's women of God.
